Forest management plan out - more recreation, less timber

The U.S. Forest Service today (Wednesday) released its long-awaited management plan for the White Mountain National Forest.

At a public briefing in Concord, N.H., Wednesday afternoon, Forest Service officials were expected to say that, as a result of strong comments made by environmental groups during the commenting period on the draft plan, the amount of acreage for timber harvesting has been reduced, while the area set aside for recreation has been increased. (The Citizen was furnished a summary of the final report yesterday.)

The major changes in management that will be brought about on the 752,000-acre White Mountain National Forest as a result of the new 10-year plan are as follows:

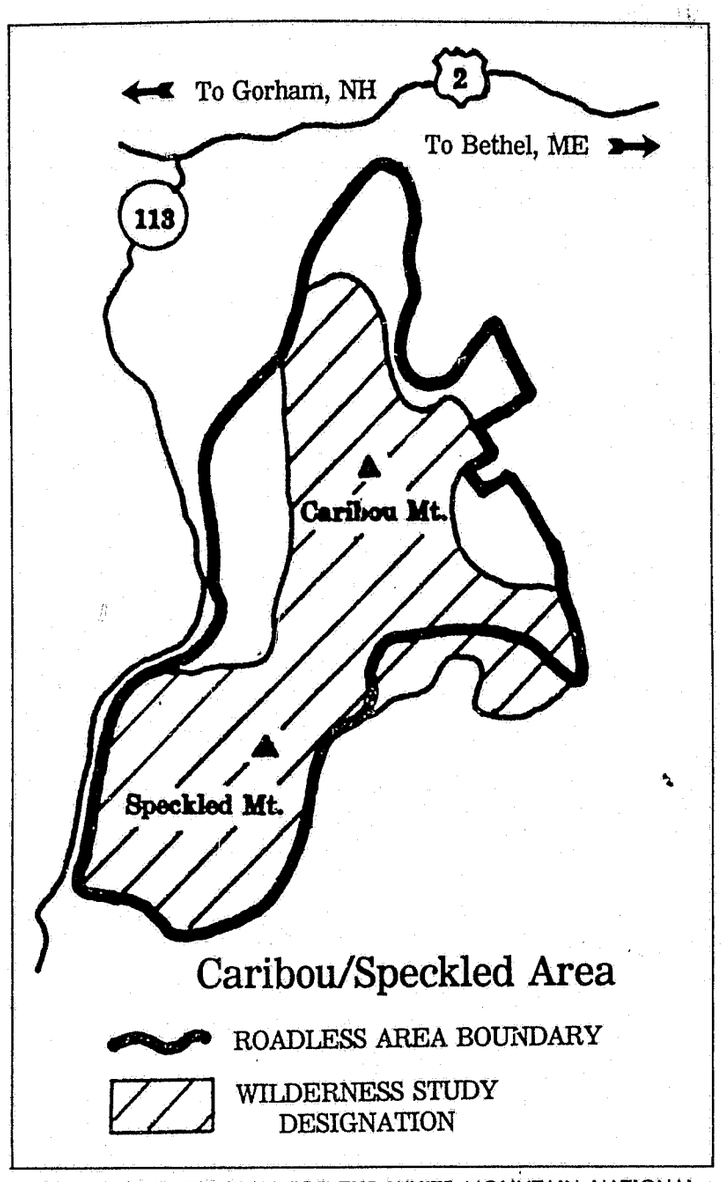
- There will be a reduction in the average annual timber harvest, from the current level of 38 MMBF to the planned level of 35 MMBF.
- Clear-cutting will be reduced in favor of selective cutting.
- The quantity and quality of the timber-harvesting roads will be reduced in order to discourage travel and cut costs of road-building and road-maintenance.
- A 12,000-acre wilderness study area will be established surrounding Caribou and Speckled mountains, near Gilead.
- A new scenic area will be established around Mt. Chocorua, in New Hampshire.
- Detailed standards and guidelines will be developed to protect resources and minimize environmental damage.

The plan, which has been under development for the past five years, drew strong criticism last fall when it was introduced in draft form. On one side were the timber and wheeled vehicle interests, who wanted more harvesting, more roads and more opportunities for off-road travel. On the other side were the preservationists who wanted less commercial and vehicular use and more non-vehicular recreational use.

The public hearing held in Bethel a year ago brought out a vocal chorus in favor of more timber harvesting and less wilderness. However, at public hearings held elsewhere in New England, it was usually the preservationists who held sway, and their influence can be seen in the final plan.

Their influence is also obvious in the comments of Forest Supervisor Mike Hathaway. "The increasing numbers of people who visit the Forest over the coming years will find abundant quantities of high-quality resources such as water, wilderness, wood, wildlife, spectacular scenery and a variety of outdoor receation opportunities," he said.

He noted that more than 5 million people a year visit the Forest for recreation. Therefore, Mr. Hathaway said, during



THE MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE WHITE MOUNTAIN NATIONAL FOREST envisions setting aside 12,000 acres in the Caribou Mountain/Speckled Mountain area, near Gilead, as a Wilderness Study Area. This would severely restrict any use of the area. The controversial Forest management plan is being released today in Concord, N.H.

Andover awaits word on insurance coverage

The Town of Andover, whose insurance coverage through Keyes Agency, in Rumford, expires May 10, is awaiting bids from insurance companies for a liability policy for the town.

Four agencies were asked to bid on coverage. Two responded this week, and their responses were not re-assuring. W.J. Wheeler, of South Paris, and Goodwins, of Norway, both said they were not interested in bidding at all and suggested the town stay with Keyes.

Bids are still awaited from Keyes and Western Maine Associates, of Rumford, and town officials hope to have them by next week.

Town officials announced this week that all Andover residents will need dump stickers to get into the dump. Stickers are available at the town office or from the dump attendant and will be required after May 5.

The reason for the new requirement is that too many out-of-towners have been dumping their junk in the Andover dump. "We're getting overrun with their junk," said Selectman Laura Hutchins.

All three Andover selectmen plan to attend the discussion in Greenwood Thursday night on the school district budget.

Selectmen meet on school budget

Seventeen concerned selectmen from the five towns of SAD #44 will meet at the Greenwood town hall tomorrow night (Thursday), at 7 p.m., to discuss what, if anything, to do about the proposed school budget.

Greenwood Selectman Herb Dunham, who got the idea for a district-wide meeting of selectmen, said the various town officials were in favor of the idea. "They all thought it was a wonderful idea," he said.

As to what the district-wide meeting might accomplish, Mr. Dunham was not at all certain, but he thought some ideas might come out of the session. "With 18 people putting their heads together we should be able to come up with something," he said.

Referring to the average 52 percent increase in assessments to the towns, Mr. Dunham voiced the feeling of many town officials: "This is getting out of hand," he said. "We've got to get all the towns together. We'll talk about it and see what kind of increase we can live with."

While the school budget proposal envisions an increase of 16 percent over last year's budget, the effect on town assessments would be much greater than 16 percent because of decreased state funding for the school district.

Woodstock officials upset by school budget

At their meeting last night, the Woodstock Board of Selectmen discussed the proposed school budget. They plan to attend Thursday's meeting in Greenwood where they will discuss the district budget with selectmen from the other towns of the district.

"If the town can keep its budget down, so should they," Selectman Gary Wing said of the school budget. "The increase to us will be 49 percent—a total of six mills increase." The tax rate in Woodstock last year was $19.50. If the school budget, as proposed, is approved by voters May 28, Woodstock's tax rate would climb to $25.50 next year.

"People have got to see the dollar value of things," Mr. Wing continued. "The schools keep saying everything is state-mandated. Maybe so. If it is, we've got to do it. But there's other places that've got to be cut—not the taxpayer's pocket."

Selectman George Hooper had some suggestions: "You could cut administrative help a bit, and talk about phasing out a few programs, rather than phasing them in.

"The bottom line is the product out of SAD 44. I'm disappointed in the school system here in comparison with (the midwest) and with what it was when I went to school in Maine."

Selectman Clifford York said, "I think 52 percent as an average (increase in local assessments) is far and above the ability of the taxpayers to pay it. These towns have gone along with this for years with little grumbling, and to get hit with this is a bit steep."

On the matter of solid waste disposal, Selectman York said the Greenstock transfer station will begin sending its trash to Norridgewock in June. The contract with the commercial landfill there is for $18 a ton tipping fee. This compares with $10 per ton being paid by Greenstock to Auburn at the incinerator. But the Auburn fee is scheduled to jump to $33

Solid waste costs go up in W. Paris

Solid waste costs for the town of West Paris are increasing. The Board of Selectmen, last Thursday night, signed a new contract with Consolidated Waste Services, Inc., for disposing of the town's trash at the Norridgewock landfill. The contract, which will take effect May 1, specifies a $10 per ton increase in the tipping fee—$24 a ton, up from $14.

West Paris disposes of between five and six tons of waste per week.

The board also decided to draft a letter to local lawyers and the Maine Bar Association concerning the town's property deeds. Because West Paris was not an independent town until 1957, many "Paris" deed transfers from West Paris are accidentally sent to South Paris.

Selectman Judy McLaughlin reported that the new bucket loader has been purchased, and that the final cost was $1,000 less than anticipated.

Finally, Town Clerk Gwendolyn Ellingwood informed the board that the town will receive an Apple II computer package free. It is a bonus gift from Sun Savings & Loan, of Portland, for investing $10,000 of town funds with the bank. Town officials haven't yet decided who should learn how to use the computer.

Bethel's budget up only 3 percent

Discounting the impact of the school district budget upon the town budget, Bethel officials figure the net municipal budget at about $559,000. This is about a 3 percent increase over last year's municipal budget.

The Budget Committee is still going over the figures, but the numbers seemed pretty much settled as the selectmen went through them Monday night.

If there are no further changes, the municipal budget increase would result in adding about ½ mill to the tax rate. However, the school district assessment is expected to add another 6 mills to the tax rate, if the school budget is approved by district voters May 28.

The major change made by the Budget Committee on the proposed budget given them by the Board of Selectmen was the elimination of $46,000, for a new dump truck. Instead, the Budget Committee decided to add $10,000 to the capital equipment fund in order to set aside money for a dump truck purchase some time in the future.

The Town Meeting will be Wednesday, June 11, 7 p.m., at Gould Academy auditorium. The day before, municipal elections will be conducted at the fire station to elect two selectmen, two assessors, and two school district directors.

The officials whose terms are expiring are selectmen/assessors Alden Kennett and Victor L. Coolidge, and Merton T. Brown Jr. and Stanley R. Howe, school directors. Both Mr. Kennett and Dr. Howe have stated that they are not seeking re-election.

Telstar's top ten announced

Theodore R. Davis, principal of Telstar Regional High School, is pleased to announce the top ten seniors of the class of 1986.

Maintaining the highest academic average during all four of her high school years is Sarah L. Buckman, daughter of Francis and Mary Buckman of Bethel. She is held in high regard by the Telstar faculty. Her course work has always reflected time, thought and a dedication to learning which is rare. It is hard to maintain that kind of drive but Sarah has done it consistently throughout high school. She has been active in school affairs participating in Drama Club, Yearbook Staff, French and German Clubs, Math League and Library Club. She was inducted into the National Honor Society in her sophomore year and is presently serving as co-president of the senior class. A peer tutor for two years, the underclassmen she works with find her academic skills and study techniques invaluable. Sarah is also a contributing member of the Freshman Awareness Committee. An excellent student in foreign languages, she was fortunate in being able to visit France last summer.

Political pot simmers

With only a week remaining before the filing deadline Bethel's political pot appears far from boiling.

With two members each from the boards of selectmen and assessors, and two members of the SAD #44 Board of Directors to be elected at the June 10 municipal election, only four Bethel voters have taken out nomination papers.

Those obtaining nomination papers as of Tuesday afternoon are incumbent selectman/assessor Victor Coolidge, for both the selectman and assessor positions; and H. Richard Crandall, Jane Rolfe, and incumbent Merton T. Brown Jr. for the SAD #44 positions. Mrs. Rolfe and Mr. Brown have turned in their papers and are bonafide candidates.

The other incumbents, selectman/assessor Alden Kennett, and school director Stanley R. Howe, have each indicated they are not seeking re-election.

The deadline for the filing of nomination papers at the Bethel town office is 5 p.m., Wednesday, May 7.

MSAD #44

Directors' meeting

The SAD #44 Board Directors met Monday evening of this week in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

Prior to the meeting there was an informal reception for several of the "top ten" students of Telstar's class of 1986, enabling members of the board to meet the students and their parents.

Final approval was granted by the directors to a word change in the "promotions" policy. The change, heard in first reading at the April 14 meeting will allow that "high school students in the Job Entry Academic Curriculum program need two (2) credits each in Math, Science, and Social Studies for graduation. Each student in the Job Entry Academic program must have a mini-

"What A Difference A Month Makes"

BRYANT POND — For the last month the Robiller family, owners of the Boller Room Restaurant here in Bryant Pond, have been on vacation. Such a good time was had by all that smiles will be on our faces all year long.

Chef Christian got a lot of rest from mom and dad and 6 weeks of free time to chase girls. Hostess Verina played on the beach, saw Mickey Mouse, got sun-tanned, toilet trained, 2 inches taller, 3 years wiser, lots of presents from Aunt MaryAnn, and lots of love from Grandma.

Gourmet Chef and super waitress Mommy Louise got tanned all over and really rested up, raring to go back to work and try all kinds of new recipes.

Daddy Joe went snorkeling on the coral reefs off the Florida Keys, sailing in the Indian River, and shopping for all kinds of exotic and different gifts for our giftshop.

We all had our "R&R." We are relaxed, recuperated, rested and rejuvenated. So join us for the finest gourmet food, great atmosphere, and good company with the Robiller Family. Christian, Louise, Joe and Baby Verina are looking forward to serving you again starting Friday, May 2nd.

Our new business hours are: Thursday, Friday, Saturday serving dinner from 5-9 p.m., Sunday serving dinner from 12 noon till 7 p.m. For reservations, call 665-2500 or our home 824-2183.

Lori — April 22, 1986
You came to me in 1972, barely three years old. A happy, spontaneous, and loud little girl.
Life with me hasn't been the best, nor what you deserved. But you perservered, and remained loving & loyal.
We have supported each other, when I alone should have been supporting you.
Now, I look at you with pride, watching you blossom into a happy, honest and loyal young lady.
I am so grateful and proud to be your "official" mother. Thank you, Lori for making that choice. You are truly a gift.
Happy Adoption
Love,
Mom

Opinions

What effect high-handedness?

If awards were given for gall, the Democrat-controlled Legislature would certainly be in the running.

In a callous power play before adjourning, the Democrats forced a bill through the Legislature moving the so-called "anti-obscenity" referendum question from the November ballot to the primary ballot—in June.

No matter how you feel about the question of having some holier-than-thou people censoring the books, magazines and films you can legally purchase and have in your possession, one cannot but be aghast at the Democrats' move to keep people from expressing themselves on the issue.

The fact of the matter is that primaries get a much lower turnout of voters than general elections. The bulk of the primary voters are Democrats and Republicans choosing to pick winners for their respective parties.

In order to keep conservative independents away from the polls in November—where they would be likely to vote for Republican candidates as well as for the "anti-obscenity" referendum—the Democrats ordered that they vote in June. This is not the way to run a democracy.

bfw

'Obscenity' issue fails first test

While the Democrats in the Legislature were playing politics with the "obscenity" issue, the democrats (with a small "d") in Lovell were tackling the issue head-on. At a special town meeting two weeks ago, Lovell voters rejected a proposed ordinance almost identical (except for penalties) to the proposed ordinance that will appear on the June referendum.

The vote in Lovell was 45-10 against the ordinance.

The man who proposed the ordinance is Lovell selectman and Fryeburg junior high school teacher Tom McLaughlin. He's not a person who wants to take books off the shelves of the library or prevent the widest possible dissemination of ideas. "I'm not a conservative Republican," Mr. McLaughlin says of himself. "I'm a leftover hippie, a radical."

And it was his radical streak that led him to take on the issue of pornography. "I wanted to raise the level of awareness," he says.

His own awareness was raised when one of the stores in Lovell began selling "Playboy," "Penthouse," "Hustler" and other such magazines. He tried to talk the owner into getting rid of the magazines, but to no avail.

His awareness was raised even further when he caught one of his students bringing "High Society" magazine into school. The photo spread that angered him most depicted the supposed rape of a woman and her supposed realization that she enjoyed it. Mr. McLaughlin says: "I was concerned with sexual violence being on the rise. I object to this sort of (pornography) we have around. I'm indignant."

But his indignation about the degradation of the image of women through pornography did not win much support among Lovell citizens. Not because they're in favor of pornography, but because, as Mr. McLaughlin said, they viewed the ordinance as posing a danger to their First Amendment rights of freedom of speech. While there were a number of mundane articles on the warrant, it was the First Amendment concern that brought out the voters. "People turned out for that special town meeting mainly to vote against that ordinance," Mr. McLaughlin said.

In the aftermath of the lopsided defeat of the proposed ordinance, Mr. McLaughlin said, "Maybe the law is not the way to go about it. Maybe a boycott is the way to handle it." In fact, he was encouraged that the Lovell store selling the magazines he found offensive now keeps them on a top shelf, away from young eyes.

Maybe, as Mr. McLaughlin says, there are ways of attacking the problem other than putting First Amendment rights in jeopardy.

Republican gubernatorial candidates Porter Leighton and John McKernan were left stranded to the right of the road as Republican Party stalwarts took the middle of the road, refusing to endorse the "obscenity" referendum question as part of their party's platform. Both Leighton and McKernan had earlier placed their conservative credentials on the line by stating they were in favor of the proposed ordinance. (McKernan, however, came late to that position, taking it only after being challenged by Leighton.)

With the party faithful overwhelmingly saying they want nothing to do with the proposed ordinance, look for both candidates to downplay the issue.

Rep. McKernan names Oxford County backers

The McKernan-for-Governor campaign announced it has recruited McKernan county chairmen and women in all 16 Maine counties, and McKernan town chairmen in over 400 Maine communities.

In Oxford County, Roland Sutton and state Rep. Susan Bell will head the McKernan effort. McKernan town chairmen and women have also been named in 22 towns in Oxford County.

Mr. Sutton, a candidate for the state legislature, is a Norway businessman. State Rep. Bell is from South Paris and was formerly a teacher at OHHS.

Rep. McKernan said the county and town chairs will play a crucial role in his campaign in Oxford County.

The town campaign chairmen in Oxford County are: Leland Brown, Bethel; Edwin Grove, Brownfield; Beverly Bennett and Georgia Robertson, Buckfield; George Conant, Canton; Alvan Larsen, Dixfield; Barbara Hammond, Fryeburg; Norman Ferguson, Jr., Hanover; Dwight Parson, Hartford; Marion Davis and Edward Willard, Hebron; and William Johnson, Hiram.

Also, Donald Tripp, Lovell; Virginia Stickney, Mexico; Olive and James Anderson, Newry; Jeffrey Poland, Amy Loungway and Alanson Noble, Otisfield; John Crumpton, Oxford; Dana Hanley, Paris; Charles Foley and Preston Stanley, Porter; Kathleen Mersereau, Rumford; Larry Hickman, Stoneham; James Wyson, Sweden; and Sawin Millett, Waterford.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In response to the statements credited to me in the April 16 Citizen, I would like to state that they were taken out of context. The April 16 quote was taken from a portion of an extemporaneous statement made during a public meeting.

Let me start by pointing out that during my years with SAD #44 I saw many dedicated teachers who expended extra time, emotion and concern for the students, many teachers remained in the building long after school closed for the day helping students. I have known principals who spent hours trying to find the right "key" to turn a problem student into a productive student. Also I have observed, as with any group, personnel who left as soon as the official day was over. The teaching profession is no different from other groups — some employees give more and some less.

For my comparison of teachers' salaries, I used a work year of 43 weeks or 215 days. Multiplying this by a 6½ hour work day I arrived at 1,398 hours per year vs. 2,080 for a 52 week, 40 hour employee.

Using these calculations the following comparisons can be made:

Teachers step scale	Salary	Hourly rate	52 wk. salary
Beg. teacher	$13,500	$ 9.66	$20,093
5 years	16,166	11.56	24,045
10 years	18,531	13.26	27,581
15 years	20,829	14.90	30,992
19 years	22,000	15.74	32,739

The 43 (week) work year as derived from an article by Lock Kiermaier written for the Maine Townsman based upon 36 weeks of school (180 Days), 2 weeks of legal holidays during the school year (10 days), 3 weeks of school vacation (used by some teachers to further professional development, 15 days), and 2 weeks of paid vacation (based upon a state policy of one vacation day per month of work, 10 days).

From the above data the conclusion can be drawn that teachers' salaries are comparable to other similar professions in the public and private sectors. Assuredly Maine teachers are earning less than those in other states but then Maine has one of the nation's lowest per capita incomes.

I realize that 43 weeks of earning power is not as much as 52 weeks, a person who chooses the teaching career path does so with the realization that his/her salary will be based on a shorter work year as compared to other professions. I am also aware of the fact that teachers spend extra time on their jobs but they are not alone in this respect. Salaried employees in other sectors enjoy the same responsibilities.

In conclusion I would like to say that to have it assumed that I have political power is flattering—to be accused of misusing it—is not. I am an elected official but am writing this as a citizen of the town.

Pat Dooen

To the Editor:

I recently met with the Telstar High School principal to voice my objection to a part of the new school attendance policy. The purpose of this letter is not to gain public support for my particular issue, but to inform the public of something I learned from the meeting.

During the course of my conversation with the principal I inquired as to whether other parents had voiced objections to the new attendance policy. I was told the school does maintain a file which was set up to maintain records of problems and complaints pertaining to the new policy. I was also informed this file is "empty."

The only conclusion I can draw from this statement is that the problem or complaint must be submitted in writing in order to be considered valid. I found that is was not enough to simply meet with the school principal to voice an opinion. The school must have something material to place in the file in order to acknowledge that a problem may exist.

I find it hard to believe the new attendance policy could have been out into effect with encountering some problems or complaints along the way. My particular problem was not resolved in the principal's office and may never be resolved to my satisfaction. Regardless of the outcome, I am submitting a letter to the school principal stating my particular objections. To insure that my objections are heard, I am also mailing a copy to the school superintendent amd to each member of the SAD #44 school board.

I urge any parent who may have encountered legitimate problems with this new attendance policy to do the same. Problems cannot be solved if the school will not acknowledge the existence of our complaints.

Ski access road bill signed by the governor

Rep. Jeff Mills (D-Bethel) announced that the Ski Access Road Bill, passed in the recent legislative session has been signed into law by the governor.

The measure provides for the sharing of costs between ski areas, towns, and the state for the road improvements made to roads leading to ski areas.

Under the approved formula, the state will pay 50 percent of the cost of improvements, while the ski area and the affected town will each pay 25 percent.

Rep. Mills, a member of the Transportation Committee, expressed his pleasure at the signing of this bill. One of the first areas that will benefit from the new law is Sunday River Ski Resort, in Newry. The skiway is planning to build a new access road, with the help of the state and the town.

A note from the publisher

When Bethel Postmaster Gayland "Gink" Dooen came into The Citizen office last week, he didn't mince words. "I've got bad news for you," he said. And it was bad news—not just for us, but for our readers, as well.

Postmaster Dooen was bringing us news of the latest second-class postage rate increase, which, he said, had taken effect—unannounced—the week before. That made three postal rate increases so far in 1986 for newspapers using second-class permits.

When Mr. Dooen left, he said, "You people voted for him."

I assumed he meant Ronald Reagan, not the head of the postal rate commission. In reality, I didn't vote for him. But I've got to live with him.

I would rather live with Thomas Jefferson as my president. It was Jefferson who said, "The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.

"But I should mean that every man should receive those papers, and be capable of reading them."

Disregarding the fact that when Jefferson was alive women had not yet been given the right to vote, nor the opportunity of education given to men, we in the newspaper business always hark back to his view that an informed citizenry is essential for the democratic process of government to work. And most of us in newspapering take seriously the obligation to do our best to keep our readers informed about issues of the day.

But, as Jefferson noted, all the good intentions about reporting the news are meaningless if we cannot get our papers to our readers. And the Reagan Administration is making that increasingly difficult with its continual postal rate increases.

Decades ago, when the second-class postage rate was introduced for the benefit of newspapers, it permitted newspapers to be mailed free. This was a great benefit for weekly newspapers in particular. Whereas metropolitan dailies are generally delivered by independent carriers, small weeklies don't have that sort of budget and rely on the U.S. mail to reach most of their readers. (In the case of The Citizen, we mail over half our weekly circulation of papers.)

The Reagan Administration preaches the doctrine that every entity must stand on its own, and therefore postal subsidies—and other subsidies, as well—must be eliminated.

It sounds like a noble enough goal, except when you notice that the administration still pours billions of dollars of subsidies into the laps of the tobacco farmers, represented by Reagan-supporter Sen. Jesse Helms (R-N.Carolina). And except when you notice that the tax laws still allow the largest corporations and the wealthiest individuals to shelter most of their income from taxation.

Since 1981, second-class postal rates have almost tripled. If the administration gets its way, there will be another tripling of rates as the subsidy to newspaper mailers is completely eliminated.

This will be a great boon to the junk mailers. Under the present system, advertisers get a bargain in real newspapers because their advertising messages get mailed (through the newspaper) at a subsidized rate. (On the other hand, junk mailers promise an advertiser total market coverage as they stuff every mailbox—and hope that some homes will not throw the junk mail into the trash.) If newspapers and junk mailers wind up paying the same postal rate, the bargain for the advertisers using real newspapers could also disappear.

Consider the fact that a newspaper has to pay a staff to cover the news. The paper has to also hire people to take and develop photos, to typeset the tens of thousands of words in each edition of the paper, and to put it all together. A junk mailer (whether a "shopper" or a supermarket flyer) pays only for printing. If both wind up paying the same postal rate, it's easy to see which one will have markedly lower operating costs.

In order to keep our operating costs on an even keel, we now must increase our subscription rates to offset the increases placed on us by the Reagan Administration. Whereas we first envisioned a $2 increase, the latest bad news brought in by the postmaster has convinced us that a $3 increase will be necessary for our more distant readers. (This is because the postal rate increase is higher for out-of-county destinations.)

Therefore, our new subscription rates—taking effect tomorrow, May 1—are $10 for Maine and New Hampshire subscribers and $13 for all others within the U.S. We at The Citizen wish these increases were not necessary, but they are. We are proud to note that we were able to keep the Maine and New Hampshire rate at $8 for the past five years. (It had been $7.50 before that.) If the government will permit, we hope we can keep the new rate at a constant level for at least the next five years.

To the Editor:

In reference to...the matter of pornography. In September (The Citizen) editorialized the opinion of Barbara Parker of the "People for the American Way"—founded five years ago by Norman Lear, whose express purpose is to debunk the Judeo-Christian ethic—endeavoring to blot out all traces of Christianity in our nation.

You referred to "local bigots" and recently to the "holier-than-thou's" as folk that endeavor to bring back to the public schools a real sense of morality—loyalty and patriotism. You call us censors when, in truth, the real censors have, over the years, damaged the image and traditional values of America as evidenced today in the drug culture, profanity, child abuse, alcohol use, abortion issues, adultery, sexual promiscuity, suicide, teenage pregnancy, etc.

Today, as never before, our nation's children are being subjected to a religion—"secular humanism" (qualified as such by the U.S. Supreme Court), which recognizes a godless universe, temporary human existence, finding ultimate truth in self and human reason. Humanists furthermore want an unrestricted right to sin.

You mentioned "censors" as such groups as Phyllis Schlafly, Beverly La Haye, Mel and Norman Gabler, Jerry Falwell. May I ask, have you ever read their books? If not, here is a list: "Child Abuse in the Class Room," Phyllis Schlafly; "No Easy Answers," S.M. Miller; "Book Burning," Cal Thomas; "The Battle for the Public Schools," Tim La Haye; "The Hidden Censors," Tim La Haye; "Are Text Books Harming Your Children?", Norma and Mel Gabler; "Christian Perspectives on Controversial Issues," C. Donald Cole; "What Are They Teaching Our Children," Mel and Norma Gabler.

Humanism recognizes and accepts abortion, euthanasia, suicide and all varieties of "sexual exploration" and lifestyles. It ridicules the notion that God created man. It teaches evolution.

There are a number of groups that work toward this end. The full import of this ungodly trend has not yet hit the Bethel area—but it's on its way, and the citizens of the Bethel area had better be prepared for it.

Georgia Gould pitching for Huskie softballers

Sophomore Georgia Gould, of Bethel, has been producing at the plate and on the mound this season for Huskies' coach Jean Zimmerman. The former Telstar Regional High School star has been taking a regular turn on the mound for the University of Southern Maine and playing shortstop when not pitching.

So far the mixture has worked fine for the multi-talented Ms. Gould. "Georgia has greatly improved her softball from last year," said Coach Zimmerman, "and I think most of it is basically confidence. She has a great deal of athletic ability and is a real competitor."

Thus far, Gould is hitting at a .344 clip and has driven in nine runs. She's also scored 18 runs and leads the team in stolen basis, with nine.

For Coach Zimmerman, Ms. Gould's emergence as an offensive threat is a real boost to the club. "It's been great to have her come on at the plate," said the coach.

Last year Gould pitched sparingly and was tagged with four losses. This season she has turned it around and has a 4-3-1 mark. In eight starts she has eight complete games and a skimpy 2.14 earned run average.

In addition to prowess on the softball diamond, Gould is one of the state's top field hockey players. For the past two years Gould ahs been a member of the all-state team and a year ago was an NAIA All-District Five selection when USM competed as a member of the NAIA.

Gould is a sophomore and is the daughter of Brenda Sweetser, of Bethel. She is working toward a business degree at USM.

Boise and union disagree on length of contract, plus wages and benefits

As reported last week, Boise Cascade and Local #900 of the United Papermakers International Union are years apart on their ideas for the length of the labor contract they are in the midst of negotiating.

Boise seeks a three-year contract, while the union wants only a one-year contract. "That's something to be worked out," said Boise spokesman John Shorb. The current contract, which expires June 30, is a three-year contract.

Whether or not a new agreement can be worked out before the June 30 deadline remains open to question. Mr. Shorb said he expects the talks to go right down to the wire. "I believe both sides are interested in achieving an agreement," he said.

A large number of issues have to be settled in the remaining two months. On pay, the union is seeking a 10 percent increase, plus additional paid vacations, a shoe allowance, a lunch allowance, etc.

While not making any proposal on wages, the company wants the union to give up some of the benefits won in previous contracts, such as some vacation pay, some medical benefits, and some overtime.

The current contract guarantees a starting wage of $9.21 an hour and goes as high as $17. Most workers in the plant earn about $12 an hour, according to company and union officials.

Workers are paid vacation time on the basis of a 48-hour week for each week of vacation, which can reach as much as six weeks.

Some 1,200 workers—out of 1,500 at the Rumford plant—are covered by the union contract.

Telstar girls' track

The Telstar Regional High School girls' track team had outstanding performances in their first two meets of the season.

On April 16 they went against Hebron Academy beating them 105 to 27. Scorers for the Telstar girls were:

- Sarah Chapman, 1st in the 100 meter hurdles, 1st in the 300 meter hurdles, 1st in the high jump, and 2nd in the long jump.
- Deb Bodwell, 1st in the 100 meter dash, and 1st in the 200 meter dash.
- Darcie Witter, 1st in the 400 meters, 2nd in the 100 meter dash, and 2nd in the 200 meter dash.
- Hege Dammerud, 1st in the 800 meters, and 1st in the 1600 meters.
- Traci Higgins, 1st in the long jump, 1st in the triple jump, and 2nd in the discus.
- Linda Learned, 1st in the discus, and 3rd in the shot put.
- Denise Gauthier, 2nd in the 100 meter hurdles, 2nd in the 300 meter hurdles, 2nd in the 400 meters, and 2nd in the javelin.
- April Cole, 2nd in the 3200 meters.
- Karen Gould, 2nd in the triple jump, and 3rd in the 100 meter hurdles.
- Darlene Haskell, 3rd in the 800 meters, and 3rd in the 1600 meters.
- Becky Carter, 3rd in the 3200 meters.
- Tracey Kimball, 3rd in the high jump.
- Val Kimball, 3rd in the javelin.
- Diana Moxcey, 3rd in the discus.

Also the 4×100 meter relay team of Darcie Witter, Sarah Chapman, Paula Michaud, and Deb Bennett and the 4×400 meter relay team of Darlene Haskell, Linda Learned, Deb Bodwell and Hege Dammerud, both took first places.

On Friday, April 18, the girls competed against a strong Oxford Hills team, losing 57-77. Girls scoring at this meet included:

- Sarah Chapman, 1st in the 100 meter hurdles, and 1st in the high jump.
- Hege Dammerud, 1st in the 1600 meters, and 3rd in the 800 meters.
- Traci Higgins, 1st in the triple jump, and 2nd in the long jump.
- Denise Gauthier, 1st in the javelin, and 2nd in the 300 meter hurdles.
- Darcie Witter, 2nd in the 200 meters, and 3rd in the 100 meters.
- Tracey Kimball, tied for 2nd in the high jump.
- Karen Gould, 2nd in the triple jump, tied for 2nd in the high jump, and 3nd in the long jump.
- Linda Learned, 3rd in the shot put.
- Diana Moxcey, 3rd in the discus.
- Val Morton, 3rd in the javelin.

Again, both relay teams won. The 4×100 team was made up of Sarah Chapman, Darcie Witter, Deb Bodwell, and Paula Michaud. The 4×400 team consisted of Hege Dammerud, Traci Higgins, Darcie Witter, and Denise Gauthier.

Nursing Home Week observed at Ledgeview

National Nursing Home Week begins on Mother's Day, May 11, and ends May 18. Ledgeview Memorial Home, in West Paris, urges you to attend any of their activiites during that week and visit with the residents there.

The week will start off with the residents putting on a Cabbage Patch Mother's Day Tea Party. This is open to the public. Children are urged to bring their Cabbage Patch kids and share in the fun. Refreshments will be served.

A game party, with popcorn refreshments will be held May 12, at 6:30 p.m.

On May 13, McDonald's will present a birthday party honoring all who have birthdays during the month of May.

A food sale will be held May 14, beginning at 10 a.m. (Food donations are welcome.)

There will be a banquet for the residents on May 15. In the evening, at 6:30, there will be a "So you think you know Maine" game.

The final activity of the week, on May 18, will be the movie "The Sound of Music" showing at 1:30 in the activity room.

Residents will once again be sending off balloons during the week. Last year, Irene and Stanley Hatch had their balloon travel all the way to Nova Scotia.

PINE TREE QUILTERS HAVING ANNUAL SHOW JULY 25-26-27

Registration forms are now available for those who want to exhibit a quilt at Maine Quilts '86, the ninth annual show of the Pine Tree Quilters Guild.

"Those who make or own quilts usually enjoy sharing their beauty with others," says Show Chairwoman Beverly Slye of Waldoboro. "Maine Quilts '86 provides a way for this sharing with full protection for the quilts. the public will be able to see their fine qualities, but will not be able to handle them." Overnight protection will also be provided.

Quilts may be traditional or original, old or new. They need not have been made in Maine. There is no competition and no judging, Slye says.

The quilts will be exhibited at the show on July 25, 26, and 27, at the Lincoln County Rec Center in Damariscotta. Deadline for registration is May 15.

For entry forms, contact Beverly Slye, Box 293, Waldoboro, Maine 04572 (Tel. 832-4731).

Telstar top ten

Her fine scholastic record has resulted in her selection as the winner of a $500 "Most Valuable Student Award" in the Elks Scholarship Competition. Sarah plans to major in liberal arts at Middlebury College in Vermont next fall.

Ranking second in the class is Marsha Ann Moxcey, daughter of Robert and Cynthia Moxcey of Newry. A transfer student from Kentucky, she is one of Telstar's most involved and academically gifted students. She is senior class treasurer, a four year member of the National Honor Society, treasurer this year, four member of the Math League, three year Drama Club member and a group leader for the Freshman Awareness Committee. She brightens everyone's morning with her upbeat style in reading the school's morning announcements. She has received several awards and honors this year including the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award, Maine Scholars Day Participant at UMO, American Legion Oratorical Contest winner of the local and district contests, placing second in the state. She will attend Bowdoin College in the fall where she was accepted through their Early Decision program.

Achieving the third highest rank in the class is James A. Fiske, son of A.J. and Mary Fiske of Bethel. Jim Has been actively involved in the school's extra curricular program, playing on the baseball, basketball and cross country teams all four years. He's a leader in his class, president of the Varsity Club and the National Honor Society. A warm hearted, considerate and generous individual who's always willing to pitch in and help, he has been a great asset to the Guidnance Department's peer tutor program for the last three years. He plans to major in engineering in the fall at Bowdoin College, the University of Maine at Orono or the University of Vermont.

Fourth in the class is Kimberly A. Monzo, daughter of Jean Monzo of Bethel. Kim is another fine student at Telstar. She has contributed to school life participating in yearbook, manager for the baseball team, cheering, Spanish Club and peer tutoring. She will attend Johnson and Wales College majoring in restaurant management.

Fifth place standing has been earned by Suzanne Michelle Roy, daughter of Richard and Ann Roy of Locke Mills. Suzi is one of the finest young people you'd ever want to find in your classroom or school. She always gives 100 percent of her time and energy to the task at hand in a cheerful but efficent manner. A model student in terms of character, scholarship, service and leadership, Suzi will leave her mark on Telstar. She has been on the field hockey team, for four years, lettering for the last two, co-captain this year. She's also been on the softball team for four years, served as manager for the basketball team, a member of the Varsity Club and Yearbook Staff. She is president of the Student Council, secretary for the National Honor Society and vice president of the French Club. She was co-president of her class for two years and served as a Girls State delegate in her junior year. Suzi has been cited as the recipient of a Presidential Scholarship ($1,000 renewable each year) at Trinity College, Burlington, Vt., where she will major in elementary education.

Tanya B. Foster has achieved sixth place standing in her class. She is the daugher of Bethel residents Norman and Judy Foster. Tanya is a bright and vivacious young lady who has earned the respect of her peers and the faculty through her academic and extracurricular participation. She was inducted into the National Honor Society in her junior year. She was co-president of her class in her junior year and is a four-year member of the Yearbook Staff, co-editor this year. She's been manager of the basketball and field hockey teams, a member of the Student Council and Library Club. She has been accepted in the University of Southern Maine's business management program.

Maintaining the seventh highest rank in the class is Eric J. Wight, son of Steve and Peggy Wight, Newry, Eric is a sincere, mature and steady member of the senior class. He has been involved in Math League and the Spanish Club. He's very active in the West Parish Congregational Church Pilgrim Fellowship program and the Oxford County Youth Group organization. He plans to pursue a career in mechanical engineering in the fall and has been accepted at Wentworth Institute of Technology, Boston, and Western New England College, Springfield, Mass.

Placing eighth in academic standing is Deirdre Mae Cox, daughter of John and Carol Cox of South Woodstock. Deirdre is a pleasant and capable young lady. She has been an asset to her classes, thorough in her work and willing to participate in school activities. She has been a co-president of her class, a member of the Student Council, Yearbook Staff, Self Group and a member of the peer tutoring program. She does volunteer work for the YMCA and often times does spring cleaning for the elderly and handicapped. Deirdre is still considering options for next year, leaning heavily toward a program in business management at this time.

In ninth place standing is Scott P. Korhonen, son of Philip and Juanita Korhonen, Mason. Scott is a fine young man, a credit to himself, his parents and his school. He is well respected by the Telstar faculty, always willing to lend a hand and an asset to any group. His pleasant and friendly manner is always in evidence. He is an asset to our student body, commits himself to the activities in which he participates, and has gained a good deal of self-confidence this year. He has been a member of the cross country team, cited as the best boy runner, a member of the track team, and letter member of the ski team. He has been accepted in the agricultural engineering program at the University of Maine at Orono and the architectural engineering course at Vermont Technical College.

Rounding out this outstanding group of students is Nancy A. Howard, daughter of Gladys Taylor of Gilead. Nancy is a quiet, steady girl who goes about her business in an unassuming manner. She is liked and respected by the students and faculty. Nancy is a member of the Construction Club and works on the Senior Committee. She has plans to major in photography at Daytona Beach Community College, Florida.

Forest management plan out

the 10 years of the new plan, "The opportunities will be expanded and enhanced for most forms of recreation."

According to Forest Service officials, the essence of the majority of comments received on the draft plan emphasized that "Dispersed receation opportunities are the most important resource of the National Foest and unequalled anywhere in New England." Thus, the number of acres set aside for non-motorized recreation was increased by 44,000 acres over what had been envisioned in the draft plan. In the final plan, 392,000 acres are tagged for dispersed recreation. On the other hand, the area open for timber harvesting was reduced by 45,000 acres, to 345,000 acres.

Forest Service officials assured timber interests that, "The National Forest will continue to grow and provide quality hardwood logs, such as birch, ash, and sugar maple for New England industry."

In order to make the Forest visually more attractive to people driving through it or hiking in it, the final plan reduces the amount of road construction originally envisioned, reduces the maximum allowable size of a clearcut—to 30 acres—and, as noted above, reduces the amount of timber harvesting permitted and the number of acres open for harvesting.

The final plan recommends 12,000 acres be set aside as a Wilderness Study area around Caribou and Speckled mountains, near Gilead. The report notes that there was considerable local opposition to this for economic reasons. It also notes that the area is considered a prime area for recreation.

While snowmobilers were given a temporary trail from New Hampshire to Maine along the Wild River, ATV's were held in strict check. The policy for the ATV's will be that all areas in the Forest will be closed unless designated open.

Since details of the plan did not become available until late yesterday, comments were slow in coming. Leon Favreau, of Bethel Furniture Stock, who was the chief spokesman for opposition to the plan, was out of town and could not be contacted for comment.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, which voiced strong opposition to the draft plan, said in a prepared statement: "We're extremely disappointed in the decision to designate 12,000 acreas as wilderness study area. We feel that multiple use of the land is in the best interest of the naturalists and the wood industry. The consequences of this decision may adversely affect the wood industry as well as the health of the Forest."

Forest Supervisor Hathaway responded: "There are many opinions on how this National Forest should be managed. We have listened carefully to everyone and tried to balance the uses in a logical manner."

3 at Telstar qualify as potential merit scholars

The National Merit Scholarship Corp. announced last week that three students at Telstar Regional High School have qualified as possible Merit Scholars.

The three are Keith Clanton, Kevin Powell and Darin Prada. They scored in the top 5 percent of all students, nationwide, taking the PSAT exam last fall.

Next fall, the Merit Scholarship program will reduce the list of potential scholars when it announces those selected as Commended Students. From that group will be chosen the final Merit Scholars.

Citizen circulation up 13% over last year

The paid circulation of The Citizen increased by 13 percent during the last year, according to a U.S. Postal Service audit conducted last month. The audit found that circulation increased to 2,566, from 2,266 a year ago. The increase on last year's audit was 5 percent from the year before.

The audit found that paid subscriptions totaled 1,444. The remainder of the total paid circulation was through store sales, newsboys, etc.

Publisher Bernard Wideman said he was pleased by the rapidly increasing circulation and said it indicated the paper was serving the needs of the local communities. He noted that the bulk of the increased circulation was in the towns of West Paris, Woodstock and Andover.

He also revealed that the increased circulation has been accompanied by a general increase in business volume by Citizen Press, Inc., the parent company of the newspaper. Gross sales of the company in 1985 increased 40 percent, to $160,000—the total being revenues of the newspaper, the print shop and the stationery shop. In 1984, sales increased 15 percent. A good portion of the increased revenue was used to hire additional staff, the publisher said. He pointed out that all earnings over operating expenses were used to purchase new equipment. In addition, the company took out loans of over $25,000 to purchase equipment.

The publisher pointed out that the increase in revenues reflects real growth and not simply inflationary growth. He noted that the basic advertising rate has not been increased, and subscription and per copy prices have been adjusted only minimally to cover higher postage fees and increased production costs due to producing a larger paper.

Mr. Wideman said he looks forward to continued growth in circulation and total revenues during the current year.

He said he is optimistic about the growth of the company because area businesses are discovering that The Citizen is purchased by more homes in its eight-town circulation area than any other single paper. And its advertising rates are far lower than any other area paper's. Also, he said, local individuals and businesses are discovering that they can get quality printing, at a fair price, right in Bethel, without having to travel to distant towns.

SAD #44 BOARD MEETS

mum of two (2) credits in any combination of Industrial Arts, Home Economics, or Business Education courses."

Following an executive session of over an hour the board tabled until the May 12 board meeting any action regarding a parent's concern questioning provisions of the district's Chemical Use and Abuse Policy. Before the May 12 session the superintendent of schools is to consult with legal counsel as well as Maine School Management on the issue of school district policy with regard to parental rights.

A request for termination of school attendance by a 16-year-old Telstar grade nine student was approved.

The following substitute personnel were approved: hot lunch, Laurine Bergeron; teachers, Robin Dempsey, Denise Foster, and Lee Barth.

The resignation of Mrs. Ruth Silver, developmental kindergarten teacher at Ethel Bisbee School, was accepted by the board effective at the conclusion of the current school year.

The superintendent was authorized to seek bids for the sale of two used snowmobiles.

Authorization was granted to post the following positions, contingent upon the approval of the fiscal year 1987 budget: K-12 district speech clinician, secondary health/substance abuse counselor, and an elementary guidance counselor.

In addressing a concern expressed by a parent concerning a provision of the distrcit attendance policy, the board decided that if a student arriving at school tardy presented a parental note stating a reasonable excuse for such tardiness the matter would be handled the same as an excused absence.

Board members not present Monday evening: Kay Chadbourne, Bethel; Rick McVey, Newry.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the SAD #44 directors will be at 7:30 on Monday evening, May 12, at Telstar Regional High School.

Newry sticks with Bethel for solid waste disposal

Newry's Solid Waste Committee yesterday (Tuesday) reported to the Board of Selectmen on their study of the town's solid waste situation and options. Selectman Roger Hanscom said afterwards: "It looks as though, in the future, a transfer station (in town) would be the best solution. But we'll be staying with Bethel for the time being."

Tempers in Newry ran high earlier this year when Bethel sharply increased the fee charged for Newry residents to use the Bethel landfill.

In other actions, the selectmen awarded to Brooks Morton the job for installing four new windows on the south side of the town office. Wendall Sweetser was awarded the contract for painting the exterior of the building.

Julie Lowell was hired to spruce up the cemetery before Memorial Day.

There is trouble with the town truck again. The town will send it over to Western Maine Supply to have the engine torn down and rebuilt.

per ton, and the incinerator is going to be partially shut down for repairs.

Therefore, for the time being at least, it will be Norridgewock, even though officials of Greenwood and Woodstock did not like the idea of having to go so far with their trash.

Last year, Woodstock voters set aside $25,000 for their contribution to the transfer station. This year the amount climbed to $32,000, which Mr. York hoped would be enough.

The judge hearing the Lake Road case notified lawyers in the case he would have a decision by mid-May, the selectmen reported.

Road Commissioner Ken Koskela has been working on summer roads, including Shagg Pond Road and Billings Hill Road. He expects to have them in good shape and ready for summer residents by Memorial Day.

The town office has some new chairs, thanks to a trip to the government surplus center in Augusta. The chairs cost $5 each.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

Now is the time when meadows and sidehills, that have for awhile been predominantly brown suddenly turn green. Our jonquils have lifted pennants of gold to the sunshine. The tracery of the maple blossoms on either side of the pond has been like the brushing of a crayon across the treetops. We can almost turn back in thought to last fall and say, "The maples are turning red." But these are the fires of spring.

And this week I heard the frogs peeping. So from now on the sun will hover for several minutes, then vanish in a glow that lingers, as twilight fades slowly into darkness.

Not yet have I heard the "bass drummer", the bull-frog. He will soon make himself known with his sonorous bass notes, from swamps, pools and ponds giving his concert in his throaty, husky tones, persistent, deep-pitched and without tension. He is an unusual creature. There's a band of gold around the pupil of his eye and another around the outer edge. When "jug-o'-rum" winks a membrane rises from below and covers the whole staring eye. So when night shadows are fading and the stars brighten the sky, as they do tonight, his accent added to the quiet of our country evening will signify the real arrival of a new season.

It's time to open our windows; a time to laugh in delight, as well as relief. It's time for spring! We should stop a few minutes to listen, to look, to ponder. Around us is some of spring's color. By the end of April the commitment is complete. The earth has to get on with its business.

Frank and Dot Curtis have enjoyed several callers this week: Bob and Judy Leeper and two children, Katelin and Jordon of Syracuse, N.Y.; Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Dale and Marcia Mills, Shapleigh; Kathy Curtis and Eva Felton, local.

Dot Betts recently entertained the Tuesday Club at her home.

Fred Curtis has returned home after a few days in the Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston. His family made several trips to see him.

Our callers have been Francis and Ilene Twitchell, South Paris; Dale and Marcia Mills of Shapleigh; Ann Holt, Bethel; Jake and Barbara Immonen, Milton Inman, West Paris. Frank and Dot Curtis and Rena Curtis, local, made a dooryard call to see Clyde, who is still unable to get about much.

Added to the previous list of callers at Frank Curtis' were Waldo and Audrey Porter, Bernadine Putnam, West Peru; Walter Curtis, Farmington; Ray Curtis, Oxford; Donald Bowman, Canton; Carl Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hayes, their two daughters and son, had dinner with Doris Hayes on Saturday.

At Fred Curtis', Rena and daughter, Evelyn, went to Brunswick to see her sister, Ruth Collins, who was in the hospital. Walter and Patrick Curtis, Farmington; Ray Curtis, Oxford; Albert and Marie Curtis, Buckfield were visitors. This week of vacation some of the grandchildren are with them: Melanie and Nick Strait of Freeport and Fred Thomas Curtis of Buckfield.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts were in Massachusetts on Sunday to attend an anniversary party for friends.

Robert Holt, Ricky and Jenny of Windsor, were with his parents on Monday and Tuesday, April 21 and 22.

Rotary bike-a-thon to benefit research

Scott Dennis, local St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon chairperson, has announced that the event will take place at the Bethel Town Office, beginning at 9 a.m. on Saturday, May 10. (Rain date is May 17.) The bike-a-thon is sponsored by the Bethel Rotary Club.

The hospital, founded by entertainer Danny Thomas, is non-sectarian and provides comprehensive research and treatment for childhood cancer and catastrophic disease. Funding is derived from voluntary efforts of individuals across the country.

For more information about the Bike-A-Thon contact Scott Dennis at 836-2085.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway and daughter, Jane Niro and granddaughter Niki went to Georgia Wednesday to visit their son David and family for a few days.

We have been attending three open house meetings in West Paris, Rumford and Bryant Pond this week. We also went to Oxford Pomona and a go-to-church gathering held at the Methodist Church, South Paris. The members attended in a body there.

Esther Davis has been spending this week with her grandchildren at Oxford at the home of Patricia Tibbetts.

Mrs. Karen Olson visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway this weekend.

The friends from South Woodstock who attended open house at Franklin Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Benson and three children, Clara Wilson, Esther Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway, Olive Davis. Roger and Dorene Benson received the citizenship award given by the Franklin Grange for this year. This award is presented because of the Bensons taking an interest in the children in town and teaching baseball and good sportsmanship to the youngsters during the summer months, when they are at loose ends being out of school. They, also, had many other services in town and other places.

Don't forget the dance at West Sumner Grange Hall by the Old Parisian orchestra and others. Preceding the dance there will be a supper with beans baked in the ground by Arland Farrar, served at 6 o'clock. This is for the benefit of the Tri-Town Ambulance Service. The date is May 10.

AEROBIC DANCERS FULFIL PLEDGES TO HEART FUND

On Saturday, April 26, at the Gould Academy girls' gym approximately 20 aerobic dancers gathered to fulfil their pledges for the American Heart Fund of Maine dancing from 8 a.m. until 12 noon.

The following stayed with it to the bitter end: Loretta Merrill, Barbara Stevens, Ruth Feeney, Mary Keniston, Donna Howe, Janice Bennett, Susan Day, and Susan Farrar, instructor.

There will be one more week of soliciting if anyone wishes to add their contribution. Final tally is to be announced next week.

Thanks are expressed to Gould Academy for the use of their facilities, also to the following businesses who generously offered prizes to contestants: Prim's Pharmacy, IGA, Fabric Emporium, Mother's, Bethel Inn, RFD #1, Sunday River Ski Touring, Bonnema's, Sudbury Inn, Barb Stevens and Loretta Merrill, Honey Bailey, and Susan Farrar's Aerobic/Workout.

The Greenwood Fire Department will meet at the fire station at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 6, for its regular meeting.

The Greenwood Historical Society will meet Wednesday, May 7, at the society building on Main Street at 7:30 p.m. There will be a movie entitled "Dawn of America" which is about Maine history and promises to be very interesting.

The town was saddened this week to hear of the death of Guy Durrell of Locke Mills and Dale Thurston of Bethel. Our sincerest sympathy goes to their loved ones.

Moose seem to be quite prevalent this spring. Mary Mills was the latest person to report seeing one, or actually two. As she looked out her window, one stepped out of the bushes across the road. It was followed by another. After looking around they turned and went back into the woods.

Bruce Swan is expected to be the lay preacher filling the pulpit at the Union Church Sunday while Silver Leamon is at Rockcraft with the Youth Group.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mills recently were Leroy Martin, Jr. of Bryant Pond, Tessie Martin of Bethel and Carole Sillsby and son Ross of Eliot.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the fire station with Flossie Bernier, Sally Melville, Denise Swan, Lorraine Mills, Mary Stone, Joann Cole and Cheryl Young, Naomi and Eli present. The auxiliary will provide a beef stew with biscuits and dessert for the fire department training session on May 3. It was decided to ask the auxiliary and fire department members of West Paris to a supper in June. It was also decided to have another fund raiser this spring to start building up the fire relief funds, which were depleted by about half due to a couple fires this past winter. Your support of this project is requested since it is important to have funds available for fire victims.

On Tuesday Louis Martin, Chapel Valley, West Paris, and Mrs. Lee Mills visited their sister, Cecile Winslow, and had dinner with her. Lee Mills visited his brother, Raymond, and had dinner with him at his home at Hobbs Pond, Norway.

Friday Charlotte Cole went to Livermore Falls with a group of Senior Citizens taking the bus from Bethel to attend a meeting of the Western Area Agency of Aging, Inc. at Murray Hall. There was a business meeting; Romain Luryon, chairman of the Maine Committee on Aging, was the speaker and Charlotte provided music for the entertainment portion of the meeting.

Lorraine Mills accompanied Gerry Shimamura to West Paris Thursday where they went swimming at the pool at Mollyockett Motel, then had dinner at a restaurant in Norway. From there they went to Bolsters Mills to visit Mary Mills at Autumn Years Boarding Home where she works, returning home by way of Bell Hill where they enjoyed looking at the old meetinghouse there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Perkins visited Mr. and Mrs. Owen Finnegan and family at Sandy Bottom Campground, Turner, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Murphy, Derek and Nicholas, Oakland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cross and Stuart Jr. have returned to their home after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pevear (Roberta Gibson) were in town last week visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Littlefield returned last week from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, Henderson, N.C. They also visited Mrs. Littlefield's brother, Duane Gordon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bonner and son David of St. Paul, Minn., are visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. David Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John Kallis, Mr. and Mrs. Drew Webster, Rev. and Mrs. David Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kimball and Betty, Albert Abbott, Linwood Machia, Dorothy Boyce, Ann Roy, Nancy Fox and Elaine Packard all attended the Christian Missionary Alliance president's banquet at the University of Maine, Portland, Friday evening, April 25. The speaker of the evening was C.M.A. president, Louis L. King.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, May 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Featured during the program will be a presentation by Barbara Herrick Brown on the history of Bethel's Mechanic Street, which was laid out in 1859 by Robert A. Chapman, the town's leading real estate developer in the 19th century. Early records to this street, some 950 feet long and 22 feet wide, as the road "from Buck's Mill to the Depot grounds." Long an important residential area of Bethel Hill, the street also has had and continues to have a variety of shops and businesses, Anyone interested in attending this meting in cordially invited to do so.

Orders for the 1986 impression of the 1981 reprint of William B. Lapham's History of Bethel, Maine, 1768-1890 are now being received at the Society office. The book is expected to be available during the summer and anyone wishing to reserve a copy should call the Society (824-2908) or write P.O. Box 12, Bethel, Maine 04217.

The latest issue of the Society's quarterly The Bethel Courier is expected to be mailed sometime next week. Featuring the first installment of Society Director Stanley Howe's article "Bethel During the Second World War," this issue also contains a review of Kenneth M. Morrison's book, The Embattled Northeast: The Elusive Ideal of Alliance in Abenaki-Euroamerican Relations by Margaret Joy Tibbetts.

All members of the Society's Long Range Planning Committee are reminded that the next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Dr. Moses Mason House.

CARD OF THANKS

Here I go again. There are too numerous an amount of people to list, but I want to thank everyone who called, sent cards or flowers or visited me during my recent second stay in the hospital. Words cannot express the gratitude I feel towards the people who have helped me in so many ways. When you aren't feeling well, it helps a lot to have someone to talk to. I think I am finally on the mend. Someday I will pay the favors back to so many nice people.

The sun is shining even though I listened to it rain for most of the night. Clouds around but the sun finds its way through and is right now and hope that it continues to. It sure has made the grass greener since the rain, which we needed. However, I have enjoyed all the good weather we have been having and it helped to be able to get outside in the sunshine.

Russell and I feel pretty good to think we got our peas into the ground last Tuesday and he started an extension on the garden out front and like the rest of it, the place was full of rocks so he spent a lot of time this past week digging for rocks and hauling them off. Also did a lot of raking and then on the weekend, Russell and Lawrence cleaned up the piles of rocks and trash that everyone had raked up. It sure makes the place look better and Russell will use the ground-up leaves etc. for fertilizer. It helps hold the moisture and then rots and makes good fertilizer for the next year so it helps in more than one way.

Lawrence sent for bulbs last fall and planted them and they are coming up and blossoming so guess they like the location he set them in. It looks good to see the nice spring flowers blooming in the yards as one rides along the road. Trees are budding and the pollen is starting to get into the air, that I'm sure of as I am allergic to it, but it comes with spring and fall and not much one can do about it even if it does bother.

I have been sewing on a dress for my granddaughter to wear at her aunt's wedding on May 3 and finally got it done. She will look cute in it and will have a little boy as ring bearer that is about her size to carry the pillow I made for them for the rings. It is fun to do things for others and I wish I could do more.

Drove to town a couple of times this past week; the first time for a long time. Just have had too much illness this winter to drive much so Russell has done it but am finally getting strength enough back to do more and am so glad to be able to. Have done a lot of washings but got to wash woodwork and that is harder so have been waiting to gain more strength before starting the job. Will be glad when it is done.

On Friday, Wynona and the girls came up for a short visit and I got the right length on Courtney's dress so got that finished. Now for more sewing that needs doing. Courtney had a good time getting outside. It is hard to get out at home as they live on the second floor and she has to have someone with her at all times. Kariann enjoyed sitting on the ground and playing with leaves and grass, so guess they both had a good time.

Sunday, Grace and I went to the flea market in Oxford and did a little shopping. There are new items as well as secondhand ones and one can get some nice articles for Christmas, birthdays etc. We thought this would be the last Sunday they would be open but one of the ladies there told us they will be open all summer so that will be good news for many people. It is always a busy place on weekends.

Got a phone call from my sister-in-law, Barbara Yates, and she is proud to be grandmother to another little girl. Her daughter, Darnita Taylor gave birth to a little girl last Friday morning and all is going well. I was glad to hear it as Darnita and Wynona spent so much time together as girls and this makes another nice addition to the family. Barbara said Darnita's little girl, Eva, just loves the baby and it is so nice she has been able to go into the hospital and see the baby and hold her. It makes it easier on small children when they are allowed to be in on such events and makes for less jealousy. I am glad this change has come about. I know it helped Courtney when her little sister was born and does many more.

The next meeting of West Paris Grange will be youth night with youth from other Granges filling as many offices as possible. Some of the older ones have to help out but all are young at heart so it doesn't matter. West Paris Grange is also having a fund raiser with an afghan to be awarded.

The Greenwood Street Hillbillies 4-H Club will be going rollerskating Wednesday afternoon. Fun for the children to use the money their club has earned. 4-H Clubs are great for children to belong to as they learn so many things from belonging.

The Congo Mission Church children plan to go golfing on the miniature golf range Saturday. Hope they all have a good time.

Carol Holman from Dixfield was in the neighborhood giving hair cuts and perms recently. She comes sometimes and it helps those who don't find the time to go to a beauty parlor but want something done to lift their morale.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mack went visiting some of their friends in the Stephens Memorial Hospital recently. Some of those called on were Veino Pike, Mrs. John Phillips and Mrs. John Haverinen. I am sure they appreciated the visits.

I forgot to mention that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holden have a new granddaughter. This makes their son three daughters and I'm sure this one is just as precious as the first. Aren't they all?

I'm sure there are lots of doings on High Street that I don't know about but guess this is about it for this time. It has to be spring as there are little calves at Young's and I do like to see them as we drive by on the way to town. Hope everyone on High Street is doing well and am sure they are working at getting spring work done as is everyone else. Take care till next time.

Bill Wood has an American flag flying high near his home which can be seen by passersby on Route 26. It is a spirit-lifter and joy to "we love America" souls.

Reports of moose-sightings are frequent. One night we were anxious for awhile when the dog got very agitated and we could hear a lot of noise in the nearby woods thinking it might be bears which are very unwelcome guests. We were fresh out of batteries and flashlights dim but remedied that at first opportunity.

Heather and Mickie Bergeron were vacation week guests at the Bergeron home. Goldie Bergeron of Temple, Audrey of Farmington and Myron of Topsham were guests there Monday.

Flossie Bernier and Sally Melville and their children were guests at the Bergeron home Tuesday. Ryan stayed a couple of days with his grandparents to peel logs.

The Williamsons have purchased a new boat. The fish had better be wary.

Goofed again. Elsie Fuller broke her leg, not hip, and she is in the Norway hospital. She's been up and about in small doses, reportedly in good spirits in spite of the suffering.

West Paris Historical Society met on Monday evening for a potluck supper and meeting. They were entertained with slides of the four seasons taken in the area by Penny Kurtz, Paris Hill. It was a very nice presentation of various subjects and enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be May 19 with Milton and Vernon Inman eleacted as the supper committee. Which one will make the biscuits, do you suppose?

The board meeting of the Universalist Church was held Wednesday evening. Several needed repairs and upcoming events were discussed. May 4 will be children's Sunday at which time they plan to hold a shrub planting ceremony, followed by fellowship and coffee. Mark your calendars on May 17 at which time a work bee will be held at the church.

The Firemen's Auxiliary will meet at the fire station on May 5 at 7 p.m.

Sayward and Cynthia Lamb and granddaughter Mandy Morse visited Ronnie and Donna Lamb in Sebec last weekend.

Mandy Morse, Oakland, and Carol Lamb, Poland, have been spending their school vacation with their grandparents, Cynthia and Sayward Lamb.

Last Saturday Milton and Eleanor Inman took their granddaughters, Audrey, Abby and Heather to the circus. The girls spent the night wth Grampa and Grammie.

Vernie and Walter Jr. also went to the circus with their mother and Grampa Vernon.

Phelps, Joan and JoAnna Poland and Phil, Terri, Amy and Andrew Merrill have been spending the week in Florida.

Mrs. Cheryl Sholl and Kirby arrived Saturday from Hightstown, N.J., to spend the week with her parents, Gordon and Sally Doughty.

Mrs. Laura Davis of Rochester, N.Y., has been here assisting her daughter, Sally Berry, and enjoying her first grandchild. This weekend Mr. Davis, Sally's dad, and her sister Nancy will arrive to see Bill's and Sally's new pride and joy.

Gregg and Dixie Inman entertained at a birthday party for their daughter Audrey's fifth birthday. Those present were grandparents, Milton and Eleanor Inman, Uncle Paul Komulainen, Uncle Geffrey and Aunt Heidi Inman, cousins Heather and Teresa, "Uncle Doodie" Reid and Julie Brett.

Benjamin and Jason Merrill, Waterford, have been enjoying their school vacation by spending some time with their grandparents, Ivan and Ann Proctor.

Re — "a lost antique book of town history," it was not "accidently lent out." After receving a second copy of this book, we have allowed people to borrow the older copy, especially to help students with their assigned lessons. It was always lent out with a warning of its value, to take extra good care of it, and to return promptly. Sorry to say, a student did not do this but claims it lost. Therefore, she must pay for the replacement. — Avis Ellingwood, Librarian.

It has been nice to enjoy the lovely spring days and plant peas and onions. It was also nice that the snow passed us by on April 23 when three inches was dumped on Bangor. We have had enough.

Daniel McAuliffe attended the Shriners Circus April 19 with his class from Agnes Gray School. He had a good time but spent all his money before he got hungry so he couldn't buy a hot dog but he ate enough junk.

Jimmie Coffin, Trap Corner, has a prisoner of war number plate. He paid only excise tax. It is a reminder of his capture in the Belgium Bulge in December 1944.

Mrs. Helen Berthold and four children of Saugus, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Everett White and Karri-Ann of Merrimac, Mass., came Tuesday to their sister's Mrs. Rhoda Labbe. The Whites returned to their home Tuesday evening but Helen stayed till Friday.

Mrs. Rhoda Labbe had a doctor's appointment in Lewiston.

Joe Vatcher is house-bound with pneumonia. He is a bit better at this writing, but has a terrible cough.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bondeson, Chelmsford, Mass., and Robert Anderson Sr. and David, Burlington, Mass., called on the Vatchers Monday.

Callers at Lawrences: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Faye Abbott, Rhoda Labbe and Danny, Linda Records, Odell Heath, Evelyn Herrick, Herman Card, Jeff Coffin, Todd McKenzie, Roddy Westleigh, Ruby Wing, Suzette Keniston. Polly Lawrence had dinner with the Lawrences Saturday.

Arnold Coffin and Doris Lawrence visited their sister, Alice Goff at Cozy Inn then went to a doctor.

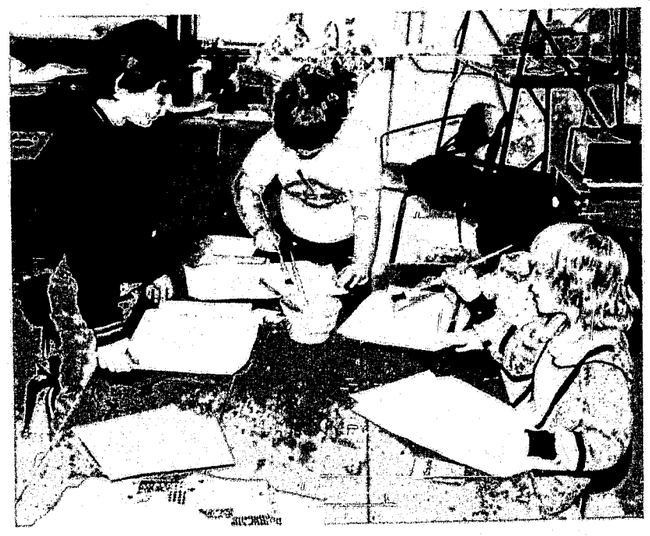
Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hanscom and Nancy, Bethel, called on Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hanscom and family Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cole, Locke Mills, called on Amy and Roger Hanscom Wednesday evening.

Louise Tetley, Betsy Clark, Nancy Wight, Eleanor Davis, June Swan, Beatrice Lowell, Gilberte Seeley, Frances Davis and Allison Black were in Rumford bowling April 26. Louise Tetley was high scorer, with Betsy Clark close second.

The Ladies Circle will meet May 5 at 7:30 at the home of Olive Anderson.



THESE FIRST—GRADERS AT LEGION MEMORIAL SCHOOL, in West Paris, have been making their own books filled with their own writings and illustrations. The students above are glueing the decorative covers for their books. Although the children write phonetically, instead of "correctly," the yearlong excersise of writing and illustrating gets them into the habit of reading, as well as writing.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS' DAY

April 22, was designated as Girl Scout Leaders' Day for the 71 Girl Scout leaders in Rumford, Mexico, Bethel, Andover, Dixfield and West Peru. Many of these leaders, both women and men, grew up in Girl Scout families and their daughters are second and third generation Girl Scouts. While it's true that not everyone can be "a first," every Girl Scout leader can be, and is, unique.

These special peope reach out to girls and help them reach farther still—to pursue their dreams, discover new horizons and take that extra step to be the best they can be. But Girl Scout leaders are most appreciated for being outstanding role models for young girls. Girls who, because of involvement in Girl Scouting, will be better prepared for new opportunities, and have many memories to look back on.

Today, 74 years after the first Girl Scout troop set out to explore new worlds, the goal remains unchanged: to help today's girls become tomorrow's leaders. And through it all, the best part is the fun. Adult Girl Scout volunteers remain adventurous and contemporary. They're young at heart and enjoy being a special friend to girls ages five through 17. Girl Scout leaders make every activity—be it finger painting with five-year-old Daisy Girl Scouts or mountain climbing with teenagers—more exciting, challenging and rewarding. Simply put, Girl Scout leaders are fun to be with. They make Girl Scouting fun.

Our leaders are "a first," with the girls. They make an indelible impression on the girls. "A first" is a leader who is remembered for being unique, fun, full of ideas, and wisdom, and of being "MOM," to all the girls in the troop. Juliette Gordon Low was a first. She founded Girl Scouts of the USA in 1912. Since then Girl Scouting has become the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world.

All adult and girls in these communities are invited to come forward and join a tremendous reorganization for the future of helping girls to become tomorrow's leaders.

MUNDT-ALLEN POST #81 ELECTS OFFICERS FOR '86-'87

Mundt-Allen Post #81, American Legion, met at the new scheduled meeting time last Wednesday evening and elected the following as officers for the '86-'87 year: Commander, Elmer Bean Jr.; 1st Vice Commander, Arthur Taylor; 2nd Vice Commander, Albert Raymond; Adjutant, Eugene Buswell; Finance and Service Officer, Robert Lowe; Sgt.-at-Arms, Peter Anderson.

A speaker has been contacted for Memorial Day. A donation of $300 was realized from game receipts and presented to a family who lost their home by fire recently.

East Andover

By LAURA HUTCHINS

Another week of unsettled weather has been with us, but all around Spring is showing more of its glory. Some tulips and crocuses are blossomed and most of the perennials are showing renewed life.

Yesterday must have been a "robin convention" as it seemed every available robin for miles around was congregated in the field busily searching for worms. We had seen only a few of them prior to this gathering. They are so plump and their red breasts so showy against the new green grass.

Rev. Marriotte Churchill received a surprise, following the church service April 20, when she was honored with two pretty birthday cakes and a large "happy birthday" poster made by several of the Sunday school children.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hurchins had their first cook-out of the season, Sunday, April 20. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Adams, Robbie and Karen, of Sweden, Maine, also Mr. and Mrs. Preston Cobb, Miranda, Calla and little Preston of Bryant Pond joined us, Fran Adams was birthday guest-of-honor. Robbie, Karen, Miranda, and Calla all stayed for a few days' visit. Robbie and Mandy were enjoyable their school vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain were in Longmeadow, Mass., on April 21, to attend memorial services for their son Rodney's father-in-law, David Young. On the return trip they were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dufresne in Londonderry, Vt. Mrs. Dufresne and Mrs. Swain are officers in the Vermont and Maine chapters of the 1918 Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones accompanied by their daughter, Laura Piawlock and children, Joshua and Sarah of Bethel, were overnight guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jones in Gray, the first of the week. Sidney had a doctor's appointment in Portland the following day.

Joshua and Sarah Piawlock spent several days of their school vacation visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones, East Andover. While there they had the opportunity to go smelting with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ramey, Rumford Center, and their grandmother, Dolly Jones. It was an exciting and successful trip.

Harold Falkenham, Andover, was a patient at Maine Medical Center in Portland for a few days this week undergoing tests. He returned home Wednesday but has to return at a future date for further testing.

The Ladies Aid Society met at the CEB Tuesday, April 22. Several members enjoyed learning how to make parchment lampshades. A potluck luncheon of quiches was enjoyed. Next meeting will be May 6 when each one is to make and bring a Maybasket. These will go to shutins. This will also be a apron day. Each one is to bring something to go toward aprons (spool pf thread, bias tape, rickrack, or material).

Tuesday afternoon, Mandy and Calla Cobb, accompanied me as I took Robbie and Karen to thei Grandmother Farrington's in Lovell. After a short visit there, I returned them to their home in Bryant Pond. Little Preston certainly was happy to see them.

I was pleased to get a phone call from Sandi Downs, South Andover, letting me know she had returned from her winter employment in Florida. I visited with her on Tuesday evening and enjoyed her account of her experiences. She brought back several unusual pieces of coral, sponge, and many beautiful shells.

Mrs. Herschel Hall, Ashburnham, Mass., has been spending some time in town again, helping care for her father, Howard Glover, and visiting other relatives. It seems good to see Howard able to be out for rides.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hutchins, East Andover, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Meisner, Andover, left Thursday to spend a few days in New Jersey. Hope they didn't run into all that snow.

The Andover Senior Citizen Group met at the Town Hall on Thursday for a meeting and potluck luncheon.

The moose are frequenting the boggy areas now. It is reported that an accident occurred this morning on Rte. 5 near Dr. Martin's residence involving two Andover residents, due to moose being in the road. No particulars are available at this time. It behooves one to slow down and keep a watchful eye on these areas where moose are repeatedly scene.

West Bethel

By HARRIETT STOWELL

Janet Bowers of Rumford and Carolyn Vaughan of Dixfield spent the day with their sister, Harriett Stowell last Wednesday. They went to Berlin for lunch and shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings and daughter Cathryn called on Herb Lyons in Locke Mills recently.

Andrew Boyd returned to Maine Medical Center in Portland Sunday after being at home for the past two weeks.

Recent visitors at Olive Head's were Sylvia Akers of Natick, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calnan of Billerica, Mass., and Howard and Mary Butler of Union and children, Lisa and Matthew.

Cleveland and Cathryn Lovejoy visited Lillian at Ledgeview last week.

Pastor and Mrs. Larry Bresnahan enjoyed a few days vacation on the coast last week in celebration of their 18th wedding anniversary.

Ladies Chapel Aid of the Union Church will meet on Wednesday, May 14, at the church at 7:30 p.m.

ANDOVER ELEMENTARY students Megan Meisner, Keith Smith, David Bishop, Ben Bartlett and Monica Baker have winning smiles because of their being chosen "Young Scientists of the Month" at their school. Kieriston Thibodeau—another young scientist—was not present for the photo.

by Florence Hall

Marion Ladd, Rumford Point, visited Dorothy Elliott.

Callers at Bernice Glover's were Pauline Virgin, Marion Holman, Bath; Ester Thurston, Stella Glover, Mary Thurston and Marion Ladd.

Tiffanie Marston, Hollis, spent vacation week with aunt Florence Hall.

Andover Senior Citizens met at the town hall April 24. Those attending from the Manor: Florence Hall, Ann Fox, Dorothy Elliott and Tiffanie Marston. The next meeting is Monday, May 19.

Bernice Glover, Elizabeth Sennett, Dorothy Elliott and Gertrude Hutchins went on the bus to Rumford Wednesday.

Gertrude Hutchins, Florence Hall, and great niece, Tiffanie Marston, enjoyed a picnic at Andover Falls on Sunday.

New tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Spinney, have moved into apartment one, vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Vannah. "Welcome" from all of us.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman White, Sandy and girls were in Togus for Norman's doctor appointment. They met Sandy's husband, Wayne for lunch in Augusta.

Louise Powell, Hale, visited her mother, Alma Hewey.

Charles Marston called on his sister, Georgie Fraser.

PURITY CHAPTER TO MEET

Purity Chapter #102, OES, will hold a stated meeting Wednesday, May 7, at the Masonic Hall on Chapman Street. Past matrons and past patrons will be honored. Spaghetti supper at 6:30.

Thought for the Day: Worrywart

You can't do anything about the past
But here's the real sorrow
You can mess up the present
By fretin' too much about tomorrow.

Steer This Way
By Win Carrick

Driver education classes for adults are becoming more popular. Some are run by national auto organizations.

Check your car's muffler every 3 months. When car is cold, grasp the tailpipe and move it from side to side. Look for rattles, loose connections, rusted clamps. Repair promptly for safety's sake.

"Permanent" antifreeze isn't permanent at all and should be changed every two years at the outside. Protective additives may have lost their potency.

Smaller engines are extra-sensitive to spark plug misfiring. Be sure car is tuned promptly.

Good buy: the regular maintenance that keeps your car running right and can DOUBLE its usable life.

Good buy: ANY car on our lot at Route 26, Norway. We offer good cars at great prices.

TELSTAR'S SUZI ROY CLOUTS A TRIPLE during last Wednesday's home opener against cross-town rival Gould Academy. After a slow start, the Rebels caught fire in the final innings and finished 17-3 over the Huskies.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Awalt of Augusta, Mrs. Betty Gilbert and Mrs. Myrtle Lapham were visitors Monday afternoon of Mrs. Elmira Doyen.

I returned home Wednesday afternoon after spending several days over the weekend with my daughter's family at The Cape, Otisfield.

The folks and neighbors here had a little excitement last Sunday watching the helicopters dip water from the pond to douse the woods fire on Pine Hill.

We are very glad to see the loon and ducks back on the waters of Songo.

A clean-up day of the Songo Cemetery is scheduled for Saturday, May 3. Rain date is May 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons visited his sister, Mrs. Marion Clough in Farmington recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kimball were callers of the Lawrence Kimballs last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waterhouse were in Hanover, N.H., recently where he underwent surgery. He is now able to return to his work.

Mr. and Mrs. David Salway were in Gorham and Old Orchard Friday to help Kassi and Bernie move to their new mobile home in Old Orchard.

Mrs. Norma Salway drove Brandon back to Dean Junior College Monday after he spent the holiday weekend here.

Among those celebrating birthdays this week are Meredith White, Diane Lescault and myself.

Live your life and forget your age.

D.A.V. CONVENTION

The 12th annual convention of Disabled American Veterans, Department of Maine, will be held in Brunswick Friday and Saturday, May 2-3.

GREENWOOD LITTLE LEAGUE

Sign-ups for Greenwood Little League and Farm Team will be this Saturday, 9 a.m., at the Greenwood ball field.

Last year's players should bring their uniforms. All players should bring gloves.

Bridge club meets

The Round Robin Bridge Club completed its 16th session last Sunday, with an afternoon dinner bridge, at l'Auberge Inn.

Thirty-two players enjoyed a delicious dinner and afternoon of play.

The prize for first place went to Lucille Abbott. Robert Crane took second, followed by Warren Abbott, Wende Gray, Sally Ramage, Sue Crane, Evaline Kimball and Rita Davis. Individual high-scorer was Cynthia Mason. Joan Putnam received the "glad-you-came" prize.

Plans are being made for a fall session to begin in October.

HONOR ROLL ADDITION

The Telstar Middle School honor roll, published last week should have included in grade 6, high honors, Victor Hart.

No. East Lovell

By PAULINE SMITH

Carolyn Smith of Oxford helped her mother, Pauline Smith, Saturday.

The Brown boys of West Lovell helped work on wood for Pauline Smith Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Henderson from Portland were here at their home.

Phyllis Gregson and mother, Mrs. Doris Wall, were here for a few days at Phyllis' home.

Judy Nelson was here from Andover, Mass., for a few days.

Brad and Mary Crosby entertained their son, granddaughter and friend from Massachusetts over the weekend.

Bob Copeland and friend from Connecticut are here working on his home for the week. He said he found some water pipes broken.

Scottie Allen spent the night with his grandmother, Iva Fox.

Sunday guests at Iva Fox's were Paul, Iva, Kevin Fox, Charles and Ann Bubier of Saco.

Albert Fox and family, Peter Fox and family, Larry and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Fox, Ida Briggs, Marge Gordon, Edith Holt.

Mrs. Rosemary Smith, Jessie, spent the day Saturday with her mother.

Larry Fox and family, Iva Fox, had supper with Linda and Neal Allen Sunday night. It was party for Troy Fox.

Linda Allen took Iva shopping and called on Errol and Gertrude Barker.

Leroy and Pauline Smith entertained Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knights, son Tim and friend Sandy, Friday night.

HIGHWAY FATALITIES LOW

The month of March brought only eight fatal highway crashes in Maine. The crashes resulted in 10 deaths, well below last year's 14, and below the five-year average of 13.6. Total deaths for the year so far stand at 32—also lower than last year's 40 at this point of the year, and below the five-year average of 40.8.

Four of the deaths in March involved alcohol. Only one of those killed in the auto crashes was wearing a safety belt.

East Stoneham

By GLADYS KILGORE

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met at the Country Way in South Paris Saturday for their meeting and lunch.

Melissa Fox has been enjoying a week of vacation visiting relatives at North Waterford and Lovell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heino of Melrose, Mass., were visitors at their summer home here over the weekend. Walter was anxious to get his peas planted.

Mrs. Helen Grover and Mrs. Betty Stearns attended the retired teachers' meeting at Norway Saturday. They reported a very pleasant day.

Mrs. Eleanor Nelson spent the weekend with her daughter and family at Boston. She also visited with her brother, Donald in Melrose.

Mrs. Joan Grover has started working at Papoose Pond for the summer.

Several of the leading ladies of the church attended the fellowship meeting at Norway Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Rowe called on Sarah Grover Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown who have spent the winter here will be in North Dakota for a few days in early May, then spend some time with their daughter and family in Downers Grove, Ill.

Hannah F. Richardson Tent #19 D. of U.V., met for its April session April 23 at the K. of P. Hall.

Much of the session was spent on business looking ahead to the Department Session which will be held at Waterville in June.

Due to the death of Dept. President Edith Rolfe mid-way of her year as Dept. President, readjustment had been necessary making for extra duties for members who hold Department offices along with their obligations to the local Tent, also the yearly obligations of the Memorial season—placing of flags in memory of past servicemen—many of those were veterans of the Civil War at which time it was reported that Stoneham sent more persons to the aid of their country than it had registered voters—due to the number, under age 21, who volunteered.

Donations were sent to the Cancer Fund, to VAVS coupons, and to several national projects.

Sorry to hear that Stephen Taylor is ill, He has been a regular guest at this Tent's meetings also it was noted that Vesta Nelson was honored with her 50 year membership pin one year ago at the April meeting. She has been missed at the meetings since her death in December.

Eleanor Nelson and Hildred Safford served delicious refreshments after the meeting which were enjoyed by all.

Due to conflict of dates it was voted to hold the May meeting on the third Wednesday of the month, the 21st, at the usual time. Eleanor Smith and Sarah Grover will be on the hospitality committee.

Lions district confab at Inn this weekend

Norman M. Dean, of Bettendorf, Iowa, a director of the International Association of Lions Clubs in the United States, will address the Lions of District 41-L at their district convention (southern Maine) this weekend at The Bethel Inn.

He is one of 33 international officers and directors of the association, drawn from 14 countries.

Dedicated to humanitarian service, Lions Clubs International is the world's largest service club.

A new district governor will be elected at the close of the convention, on Sunday. The three candidates are Tom Flanagan (Sebago), Arthur Grady (Mechanic Falls), and Maynard Smith (Freeport).

YOUNG WRITERS

THE DAY BEFORE

By Danielle Bernier
Crescent Park School

Once there was a boy whose name was Rahool. He went to Andover Elementary School. He went to a frog contest and said, "Hey, that's cool. I want to try that too." So he went to the bog to catch a frog. He caught a big, slimy, greenish-brown bullfrog.

He went to the contest the next day. He said, "I want to join." The judge replied, "OK." So he went to get his frog ready, when all of a sudden, the judge said, "It's not today."

"Then when is it?," the boy asked.

"Tomorrow," he replied.

Rahool was off to get his frog ready for tomorrow.

Rahool couldn't sleep that night so he went downstairs and looked in the mirror. He had his glasses on with his buck teeth sticking out further than ever, and his blond hair all messed up from laying in bed.

The next day was great for him. He won the contest by 1m, 2cm and 3mm!

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to so many people for all their kind thoughts and good wishes. They really did make a difference.

Bethel Senior Citizens

Bethel Senior Citizens met April 9 at the Methodist Church, with 56 members present.

President Virginia Walker conducted the meeting, which was opened by the flag salute and a prayer read by the president.

The report of the treasurer was read and $253.42 was reported, after expenses.

The next meeting will be the birthday meeting, which will be held at Sunday River, May 14. Frank Pratt will provide the entertainment.

The sunshine committee reported eight get-well cards and two sympathy cards were sent.

The results of the finance committee meeting were as follows: they voted not to pay $50 towards the ambulance service as it is reimbursed by the town.

It was voted not to have the "Elder Advocate" next year.

A vote was made to knit mittens for Head Start.

Joan Coolidge reported that a trip to Newfield, N.H., is planned. Cost is $10 at sign-up and the remaining $20 at the next meeting. Those signing up and unable to go must provide a substitute or forfeit the first payment.

Lindley Wieden announced the next meeting of the Senior Citizen Council would be April 25. The Bethel group will share a bus with 10 from Rumford and 10 from Bethel. The meeting will be at Livermore Falls. The Bethel group is presenting part of the program.

Mr. Wieden also reported on the by-laws prepared by the executive board. It was voted to read them at the next meeting and then vote to accept or reject them.

Polly Shattney reported there will be a food sale May 3, 1-4 p.m., for fund raising.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, of Bailey Island.

Followwing the close of the meeting, a dinner of meat loaf, glazed carrots, mashed potatoes, with Jello and cake for dessert, was enjoyed. After dinner, a program was presented by the children of the Methodist Sunday School, under the direction of Mrs. Downing. The young actors did a very good job in the play.

Physics and seatbelts

Gould Academy physics teacher Tom Ford demonstrated to his students, in a very unique way, inertia, acceleration and deceleration.

He had the Maine Safety Committee bring its seat belt demonstration sled to the school.

Students were able to experience firsthand the results of a simulated 5-7 mph car crash into an immovable object. After experiencing the demonstrator, none of the students expressed interest in a second ride. "If you get the wind knocked out of you at 5 mph, think what it must be like at 60," said one student.

Not only were the benefits of wearing a seat belt vividly brought to light, but fundamental physical phenomena were experienced.

Next fall Mr. Ford has the demonstrator scheduled for a return visit to Gould to help introduce the physics section on kinematics. Students will place instruments along the tracks of the seat so that at a given instant, position, acceleration and velocity can be accurately measured. Already, students in Mr. Ford's honors physics class have designed some of the experiments to be carried out. "It will be like living inside your own experiment," said Ford.

Newry town office

Newry selectmen are expecting an increase of at least $1 per thousand of assessed valuation this year, after holding the rate at $11.40 per thousand for the past three years.

Figures received on the proposed school budget for FY 1987 show a 52.8 percent increase over FY86 for the district. Newry's increase is 60 percent for the fiscal year July 1 to June 30. Since Newry operates on a calendar year basis, only one half of this increase will be felt this year. Newry's assessment for the calendar year 1985 was $123,514. For 1986 the proposed assessment is $165,839, an increase of 34 percent. Using the 1985 assessed valuation the 1986 tax rate would be $15.70 per thousand of assessed valuation if the school budget is approved. The assessors are anticipating an increase in valuation of some $4,000,000. This would bring the tax rate to $12.60 per thousand. An increase of $6,178,000 would be necessary to hold the tax rate at $11.40. This would mean a total assessed valuation of $22,675,195. The total proposed M.S.A.D. #44 budget for FY87, including local assessments, state funds, tuition and other revenue is $4,155,267. Less adult education funds of $51,650 this leaves a balance of $4,103,617.

With 1,174 pupils enrolled in District #44 schools this gives a per pupil average of $3,495 compared to a state average per pupil cost of $2,434 for secondary and $1,835 for elementary in FY86.

Selectmen from the five towns in the district are quite concerned over the drastic increase and are expected to meet to discuss the situation sometime before the annual budget meeting May 28.

The amount of increase in the proposed assessment for each town in the district for FY87 over the FY86 assessment is Andover $222,484; Bethel $234,188; Greenwood $97,053; Newry $76,909; Woodstock $120,029. Using the last local valuation this increase would require a tax rate of Andover .00617; Bethel .00676; Greenwood .00495; Newry .00466 and Woodstock .0054 to cover the increase for FY 87.

SENIOR CITIZEN TRIP

The Bethel Senior Citizen Day Bus Trip to Willowbrook Museum, Newfield, Maine, will be June 26. Anyone interested in going should contact either Joan Coolidge or Muriel Faudi for further information as soon as possible.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

The membership committee of the Woodstock Historical Society wishes to invite all residents of the area, and visitors as well, to attend society meetings the second Saturday of each month, at 7 p.m.

The museum facility where the group meets is a fine building, and members are eager to welcome everyone to visit, hear an interesting program, and join the society.

Young and old alike are welcome. Everyone can make a valuable contribution. Your involvement, ideas, and enthusiasm are definitely needed.

A regular membership is $2 per year; a life membership is $25 under age 55 and $15 for anyone over 55. Those who just wish to come and visit are also welcome. Do plan to attend soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks recently brought the museum some dishes from the estate of Marion Mayhew. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brooks have contributed a "Bryant Pond" sign.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Upton, Me. (and their offspring)

We moved here in Sept. 1985 and thought we would have peace and quiet on our 17½ acres. Wishful thinking on our part.

My mail box has been flattened and demolished and now, after snowmobiles all winter, I am harassed with a public race track, mountain climb you name it.

I've tried to be a good neighbor by giving plants, food, drinks, showers, household items, clothing, etc. All to no avail.

My aunt is 81 years old and had a stroke last year with a partial loss of speech. With all the illicit activity (dirt bikes, VW's, gray monsters, etc.) the dog goes out of his mind and this affects my aunt. She cannot understand and communicate to me. No one is going to cause a second stroke.

I understand the Sheriff's Dept. and the State Police take their time about responding to calls for assistance. Therefore be warned trespassers on my property will face my decision on what to do. My dogs (now an added Doberman) are conditioned and my guns are loaded. I'm not putting up with anything more. GET IT? If not, TRY ME.

LEET - CHARLES

John Leet of Lewiston and Virgilene H. Charles, formerly of Fryeburg, were married at the North Paris Community Hall on April 19 by Mrs. Leet's niece, Mrs. Hazel Rummey of Thorndike, in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of the late Elmo B. Poland and her mother is Rubie P. Malier, West Paris. The groom is the son of the late Ralph and Florence Leet of Millinocket.

Mrs. Leet was given in marriage by her sons, David Moore and Cleon Charles II of Fryeburg. The maid of honor was Dolores Graham of Lewiston and bridesmaids were her daughters, Dawn Doustout and Doreen Moore of Lewiston. The bride wore a dark blue velvet gown and carried a bouquet of mixed blue flowers.

Michell Leet of New Hampshire was best man for his father and another son Leonard Leet, Bangor, was present.

A reception followed with relatives and friends from Lynn, Mass.; Dexter, Freeport, Belfast, Thorndike, Livermore Falls, Portland, Millinocket, Fryeburg and Lewiston.

SECOND IN FILM SERIES MAY 3 AT RUMFORD CORNER CHURCH

The second in a series of Dr. James Dobson's "Focus on the Family" films will be shown on Saturday, May 3, at 7 p.m. at the Rumford Area Bible Speaks Church on Rte. 232 in Rumford Corner.

The title of this film is "Sharing the Will Without Breaking the Spirit." It will be focusing on the parents' resposibility to share the children's will in love and creativity.

There will be a time of discussion following the presentation. The evening schedule will not lend itself to the presence of children, and a nursery will not be provided.

An offering will be taken to help cover the cost of the film.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to Title 28 MRSA 252 — a notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on May 5, 1986, 7 p.m., at the Town Office Meeting Room to consider a renewal Class I liquor license application from The Bethel Commodore Corporation d/b/a The Bethel Inn and Country Club, Broad Street, Bethel, Maine.

The Home Front
By Bob Crane

• Planning a skylight? Consider a dome, which will not collect water or dirt and can pick up light from a rising or setting sun. For sloping roofs or side walls, though, a flat unit may be preferable.

• No need to buy fancy colored stains for wood. Just thin oil-base paint with mineral spirits. Remove excess with a clean cloth dampened with thinner.

• Where will you retire? Real estate research group sees retirement housing as the single most important growth market in the industry.

• Maximize the harvest of your vegetable garden by interplanting where you can. Lettuce and radishes can be planted together. Plant late-season crop after the lettuce bolts.

• Fool-the-eye trick by designer Billy Baldwin: to hide the imperfections on a wall, he painted it a deep brown.

★ No fooling, we'll find the right buyer for your house, who'll pay top dollar for the privilege of owning it. List with us at

PUBLIC NOTICE

Town of Upton residents, non-residents, seasonal residents and others:

At the March 13, 1986 Town Meeting, the people and voters of the Town of Upton voted not to raise and appropriate the requested 1986 Annual Assessment Fee for the Bethel Ambulance Service. For this reason, proper and legal notice is hereby given to the Town of Upton that the Town of Bethel will not provide ambulance services to the Town of Upton effective June 1, 1986. This will provide enough time for the Upton Board of Selectmen, the residents, non-residents, seasonal residents and others to make other arrangements for ambulance services.

Per Order,
Town of Bethel, Board of Selectmen

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Excerpts from Colossians; "To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ—we give thanks to God for the hope which is laid up for you in heaven—that ye might walk worthy of the Lord—being fruitful in every good work—giving thanks to the Father—who hath delivered us from the power of darkness and translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son—in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins.

For by him were all things created, that are in heaven and that are in the earth, visible and invisible. All things were created by him, and for him—and he is the head of the body—the Church. And you that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works (and now through the death of his Son) hath he reconciled—to present you holy and unblameable in his sight."

The Church's work is to evangelize—to spread the Gospel—to bring lost souls to Christ—and to love our neighbor. As Jesus said—"we're in the world but not of it." Yet we have the responsibility as individuals to take a stand for morality—for our children—failing to do so we shall suffer the consequences.

The work set before us is for all children and young people—many are looking for answers and failing to find them.

"Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than ourselves." Philippians 2:3

Tri-Town Rescue

The auxiliary is preparing for its Every-Member Canvass, to start May 6, following the auxiliary meeting May 5. All money collected this year in the canvassing is earmarked for the building fund. Tri-Town is planning to build its own rescue barn and training room to house the West Paris ambulance. The service needs to raise an additional $20,000 to build the barn without a mortgage. Please give generously when a Tri-Town member comes to your door.

Team captains have been established for each town. Please contact that person of you don't get visited to make a donation: Greenwood, Kay Hakala; Sumner, Ruth Scribner; West Paris, Mary Emery; and Woodstock, Dorene Benson. Also donations can be mailed directly to the treasurer, Richard Walker, RFD #2, Buckfield, Maine 04220.

The auxiliary is planning a baked bean-casserole supper Saturday, May 10, in West Sumner before the Old Parisienne's Dance later that night.

An EMT refresher course will start May 19 and continue Monday and Thursday nights for five weeks at Ledgeview. Arlene Greenleaf from Bethel will be the instructor.

Safety Tip of the Week

It is important to keep emergency telephone numbers next to the telephone. When the situation arises, it is hard to take the time to call information to get the necessary help.

The following list is just a suggested list to post near the telephone or near all extensions:

Fire Department
Doctor
Ambulance	1-800-482-7433
Poison Control	1-800-442-6305
Sheriff's Dept.	1-800-482-7433
State Police	1-800-482-0730

When calling an ambulance service, remember that the Oxford County Sheriff's Department dispatches for a variety of services. Please be sure to state which ambulance service covers your area. Also please be sure to give clear directions to your home. This speeds up the response time of the emergency service.

DALE C. THURSTON

Dale Cooke Thurston, a lifelong resident of Bethel, died Friday morning, April 25, 1986, at the Rumford Community Hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

He was born in West Bethel, April 28, 1919, the son of Hugh D. and Alma Cooke Thurston. He attended local schools including Gould Academy and graduated from Hebron Academy. Mr. Thurston attended the University of Alabama, leaving during his senior year to enlist in the Marine Corps. He served in the Pacific Theatre during World War II and was a member of the first expeditionary force to land at Nagasaki, Japan, following the dropping of the atomic bomb. He married Agnes Bulger on May 12, 1951.

Prior to his retirement in 1976, Mr. Thurston worked in local mills and was woods foreman at Newton and Tebbets Mill in West Bethel. He was the youngest member of the Bethel Universalist Church when it was active. A registered Lay Leader of the United Methodist Church, Mr. Thurston had done lay preaching in churches in western Oxford County for 20 years. A charter member of the Bethel Lions Club, Mr. Thurston served in all the offices of that organization. He has a member of, and chaplain of, Mundt-Allen Post #81, American Legion, of Bethel.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the West Bethel Union Church with Rev. Norman Russ officiating. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery, Bethel, with flag folding and presentation by members of the Mundt-Allen Post #81, American Legion. Bearers were Jay Willard, Howard Donahue, Peter Anderson, Eldon Greenleaf, Gene Kelly and Malcolm Gould.

Contributions in Mr. Thurston's memory may be made to B.E.A.R.S., c/o Emma Page, RFD 2 Box 2220, Bethel, Maine 04217.

GUY L. DURRELL

Guy L. Durrell of Locke Mills died Wednesday, April 23, 1986, at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

He was born at Brunswick on June 6, 1899, the son of Wilbur and Harriett Potter Durrell. He was educated in Brunswick schools and had been employed as an engineer with the Grand Trunk Railroad. Mr. Durrell was a member of the Masons and the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers. He had lived in Locke Mills for the past 30 years, coming from Brunswick.

Mr. Durrell is survived by one daughter, Edith Joy of Bangor.

Memorial contributions in Mr. Durrell's memory may be made to the American Cancer Society, Maine Division, P.O. Box 456, Brunswick, Maine 04011.

BORN

In Manchester, N.H., April 14, to Tammy Fleet and Steven Foote, a son, Jason Robert Foote.

In Norway, April 15, to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Greenleaf of Bethel, a daughter, Leora Ann.

DIED

In Norway, April 23, Guy L. Durrell of Locke Mills, aged 86 years.

In South Freeport, April 24, Patricia M. Bennett of Bethel, aged 74 years.

In Rumford, April 25, Dale C. Thurston of Bethel, aged 66 years.

PATRICIA M. BENNETT

Patricia M. Bennett of Paradise Street, Bethel, died Thursday, April 24, 1986, at the home of her daughter, Joan B. Saxe of South Freeport.

Mrs. Bennett was born in Mexico, Sept. 25, 1911, the daughter of Philip and Helga Madisen Mulligan. She graduated from Rumford High School and was the wife of Elmer Bennett. The Bennetts resided in Bethel for many years. Mr. Bennett passed away May 2, 1965. For several years prior to her retirement, Mrs. Bennett was employed at the Bethel branch of the Casco Bank and Trust Company. She was a member of the West Parish Congregational Church and the Order of the Eastern Star.

In addition to her daughter, she is survived by a son, David L., of Felton, Pa.; and seven grandchildren.

Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel.

Contributions may be made in Mrs. Bennett's memory to the American Cancer Society, 52 Federal Street, Brunswick, Maine 04011.

Honor Society inducts 8

The Telstar Regional High School chapter of the National Honor Society inducted eight new members this week. They are to be honored at a banquet at the school tonight.

The new members are: seniors, Hege Dammerud and Eric Wight; juniors, Traci Higgins, Jeannine Conant and David Kersey; sophomores, Todd Davis, Steve Learned and Delwin Wilson.

The National Honor Society is a nationwide organization begun in 1921 and dedicated to scholarship, leadership and community service.

Legislators get raise before session closes

In the final days of the 112th session of the state Legislature, lawmakers gave themselves—and the governor, the Public Utilities Commission and the Workers' Compensation Commission—salary and benefit increases.

The salary of the governor was set at $70,000, while the PUC chairman's salary jumps from $48,400 to $53,185. The salary of each commissioner goes to $50,148, from $46,800.

The chairman of the Workers' Compensation Commission gets $53,185—up from $46,210, while the eight commissioners get raises to $50,148, up from $45,030.

The legislators themselves took salary increases of $1,500 for the first session—from $7,500 to $9,000—and $2,000 for the second session—from $4,000 to $6,000.

Additionally, they will receive increased allowances as follows: $34 per day for housing allowance during regular sessions (commuters can get up to $34 per day for mileage, depending on actual mileage); $500 for constituent service allowance; $55 for per diem when on official trips; lodging expenses in Augusta when a legislator has to be there while the Legislature is not in session.

In the senate, both area senators—Ed Erwin (D-Rumford) and Don Twitchell (D-Norway)—voted for the salary increases.

In the house, voting for the measure were area representatives Phyllis Erwin (D-Rumford), Francis Perry (D-Mexico), and Joe Walker (D-Norway).

Representatives voting against the measure were Sue Bell (R-Paris) and Jeff Mills (D-Bethel).

Pixie Williams leaving Bethel Health Center

Pixie Williams, the physician at the Bethel Area Health Center, will be resigning June 30.

At a recent meeting, the board of trustees of the health center accepted, with regret, Dr. Williams' resignation.

Dr. Williams said she is resigning because she wants the chance to practice medicine in association with other physicians, rather than continue as a solo physician.

"Dr. Williams has served the health center well for nearly five years," Bethel Area Health Center Director Shirley Powell said.

A board-certified family practitioner, Dr. Williams joined the center in September 1981, after completing a three-year residency in family practice at Central Maine Medical Center.

Dr. Williams and her family will continue to reside in the greater Bethel area.

The health center is continuing its search for another physician and is confident the provision of high-quality medical care will go on uninterrupted at the center.

PIXIE WILLIAMS, left, is resigning as the Bethel Area Health Center's physician, effective June 30. She says after five years as the only doctor on the staff she wants to now join an office where she can work with other physicians. She says she is considering some possiblities in the Norway area.

Bethel area swim program will start Monday, June 23

The Bethel Area Swim Program for 1986 will begin on Monday, June 23, and will run for four weeks, ending on Friday, July 18. Regular children's classes will be scheduled throughout the day beginning at 9 a.m. at Songo Pond.

Any child six years old or entering the first grade in the fall is eligible for regular class instruction. Classes will include: Non Swimmer, Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate, Swimmer, and Advanced Life Saving. Basic Rescue and Water Safety are offered on alternate years and will not be offered this summer.

The summer schedule is designed to accommodate all ranges of ability and interest.

Non Swimmer is intended for young children who are either afraid of the water or who have had no previous experience but desire to learn to swim. This class focuses on the basics of wading, putting the face in the water, floating, rhythmic breathing and beginning rudiments of beginner stroke.

Beginner class is intended for young children who have either previous swim experience, able to perform the above mentioned skills in the Non Swimmer class, or are comfortable in the water. Children enrolling in this class should be able to swim unassisted for 15 feet, put their faces in the water, and float on their backs.

Prerequsites for the Advanced Beginner class include swimming 20 yards using the crawl stroke, diving into deep water and treading water.

Potential Intermediates should be able to perform the crawl stroke for 50 yards, elementary backstroke, survival stroke, and be relaxed in deep water.

Swimmer candidates should be able to swim the crawl stroke 75 yards, elementary backstroke and have mastered separately the arm strokes and kicks of the breaststroke and sidestroke.

Advanced Lifesaving is for youngsters age 15 or older who desire to learn basic contact rescue and increase awareness of personal water safety. Students must have passed Swimmer class or the eqivalent. This class is open to adults. A minimum of six students is necessary to conduct this class. There is an additional charge for class material beyond the standard registration fee.

A Tiny Tot class may be offered if sufficient number enroll. This is a class designed for parent and child together in the water assisted by the instructor. Exercise, water adjustment skills and some limited swimming skills for older children are the goals in this class. Children age five and under are eligible. A text is available and recommended for particiapting adults. Progress and expectations are solely dependent upon the individuals involved: there is no formal instruction or testing of the participants.

Registration forms will be available at the Bethel Town Office from May 1 through May 30. Completed forms for each child with the registration fee should be returned to the Bethel Town Office by May 30 for scheduling purposes. Fees are $5 per child.

The swim schedule will be posted in the June 18 issue of the Bethel Citizen.

A tentative schedule is listed as follows: 9:00, Intermediate; 9:45, Advanced Beginner; 19:30, Beginner; 11:15, Non Swimmer; (12:00, Tiny Tots)*; 12:30, Non Swimmer; 1:15, Beginner; 2:00, Swimmer; 2:45, Advanced Lifesaving.

Bethel delegates attend Maine GOP convention

Bethel sent 10 delegates and alternates (all supporters of Congressman John R. McKernan for governor) to the Republican State Convention held in Portland April 25, 26, 27. Those attending from Bethel including Nan Timberlake, Dexter Stowell, Leland Brown, Al Barth, Lee Barth, Sumner Burgess, Lois Burgess, Barbara D. Brown, Stan Howe, and Karen Brown.

During the convention Karen Brown was elected to chair the Second District Convention. Barbara D. Brown was unopposed as State Committeewoman from Oxford County and Alvin Barth prevailed over two opponents to become Oxford County State Committeeman. Oxford County resident Norman K. Ferguson, Jr., and Sue Bell received special recognition from the convention for long years of service to the party.

Among the featured speakers during the three day convention were William J. Bennett, Secretary of Education; Lyn Nofziger, presidential advisor; Frank Fahrenkopf Jr., chairman of the Republican National Committee; Rep. Trent Lott of Mississippi, GOP Whip of the U.S. House of Representatives; Gov. Richard Thornburg of Pennsylvania.

Farmers get 2nd chance at conservation program

"Farmers who want to bid to enter their highly erodible farmland in USDA's Conservation Reserve Program may do so during the program's second sign-up period, May 5-16," according to Lester Bailey, chairman of the Oxford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

For contracts effective immediately, annual payments will be made beginning October 1986. Producers cannot harvest any 1986 crop planted on land to be placed in the program. Any producer who has had, or will have, a crop mechanically removed from the designated area is ineligible for a 1986 contract.

Telstar boys' track

The Telstar Regional High School boys' track team was on the short end in two meets prior to the spring break. On April 16 the boys scored 55 points against a very strong Hebron Academy squad; on the following Friday, Oxford Hills High School showed their might by overpowering the tracksters 110-35. Despite the two loses, the meets were not without Telstar highlights!

At Hebron Academy:

- Jason Miserocchi, a freshman, looked impressive in winning both the mile and half-mile events.
- David Kersey won the pole vault and took second places in the high jump, high hurdles, and intemediate hurdles. David's jumps of 10' 6" in the pole vault and 5' 8" in the high jump have qualified him in the regional meet to be held at the end of May.
- Fred Kuvaja's throw in the discus was awarded first place, plus he placed second in the shot put.
- Scott Korhonen looked strong in placing second in both the 880 and mile.
- Chris Laban placed first in the javelin and third in the two-mile.
- Scott Stevens placed second in the discus.
- Todd Davis leaped to a second place in the triple jump.
- Steve Learned took a third in the shot put.
- Brian Hughes ran a nice 440 and placed third.
- Danny Thurston pole vaulted himself into third.
- Thad Wheeler notched a third in the javelin.
- Jamie Blake picked up a third place finish in the long jump.

A fantastic day coupled with a fine effort made the meet truly outstanding!

At Oxford Hills High School:

- David Kersey had an outstanding day by placing first in the 110 meter high hurdles (he established a Telstar record in this event and also qualified for the regionals), first in the high jump, second in the pole vault, and third in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles.
- Jay Hastings placed first in the pole vault with a leap of 11' (Jay's jump qualified him for the regionals). In addition he placed third in both the high jump and triple jump.
- Jason Miserocchi looked smooth in winning the 3200 meters. He also placed third in the 1600 meters.
- Scott Korhonen ran to a second place finish in the 3200 and placed third in the 800 meter run.
- Jamie Blake picked up two third place scores in the high hurdles and the long jump.
- Steve Learned took a third place in the pole vault.
- Chris Laban placed third in the 3200 meter run.

Last year Telstar scored 13 points in a three-way meet at Oxford Hills. Track is back!
